Mrs. St. John

Mrs. St. John is a self-proclaimed math geek. Her passion for mathematics is only surpassed by two things: passion for the success of the students entrusted into her care and the love for her family. After completing her student teaching at South High School in Worcester, Massachusetts, Mrs. St. John graduated from the College of the Holy Cross in 1995. She continued teaching at South High until the fall of 1998 while earning her Master's Degree in Education from Clark University. Mrs. St. John then taught at University Park Campus in Worcester, Massachusetts where she actively designed curriculum to meet the needs of the diverse student population. In the fall of 2002, Mrs. St. John came to Leicester High School where she has continued her work in curriculum writing and development.

In the classroom she has not been afraid to try new approaches. Mrs. St. John's strives to help each student understand the concepts, and while the line between passing and failing for some may still be a thin one, her concern is focused on a student's growth. She differentiates her instruction with the best of them, managing to challenge those in the front, and the back of the class.

However, she is not all about work. Her classroom is a place of laughter, joy and challengingly mathematics. While she has been a class adviser twice, and advised the National Honor Society, being an adviser is not what she is known for at LHS. Students know her to be a teacher who truly cares about the whole student. Yes, she is employed as a high school mathematics teacher, but she may have missed her calling as a therapist. There are plenty of students that trust her guidance in math. Whether from her classes or others, her room before and after school is often filled with students who just want to talk. They may be there to relate a story about their weekend, or to cry about a teenage crisis. Whatever the reason, they know that she is there to lend an attentive ear, and every now and again, maybe a little friendly advice.

Mrs. St. John is dedicated to the success of her students and is always scheming strategies to inspire them to work to the best of their ability. She demands excellence and requires each student to realize their potential. Mrs. St. John and her husband Mark reside in Leicester with their three children: Lauren, Brenna and Timothy.

Above: Mrs. St. John began her career at South High Community School. Seen here with some very recent graduates, it is clear that she was joyful in their success.

Below: Mrs. St. John, Circa 2014. How does a woman who has been teaching for 20 years not age a day? The answer may lie in her youthful enthusiasm for her Top Left: It is not often you will find students posing with their teacher in front of a bulletin board that states "Math Rules", but that is just the kind of influential teacher she is. Top Right: Not only is she a self-proclaimed math geek, but she has also been known to chaperone a field trip every once and a while, even those that have nothing to do with math.

Bottom Right: As a class adviser, Mrs. St. John was in support of anything that may help to increase student interest and spirit in school, even if it meant bowling and a really embarrassing score.

"A teacher takes a hand, opens a mind and touches a heart."

"The best teachers teach from the heart, not from the book."- Unknown

Above: As co-advisers of a class, Mrs. St. John and Mrs. Bellhumeur took it upon themselves to instruct the class on how to keep the proper space between them at a high school dance. While their lesson may not have been heeded, it was comical to watch.

Making a Difference

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Dr. Judith Paolucci
Superintendent

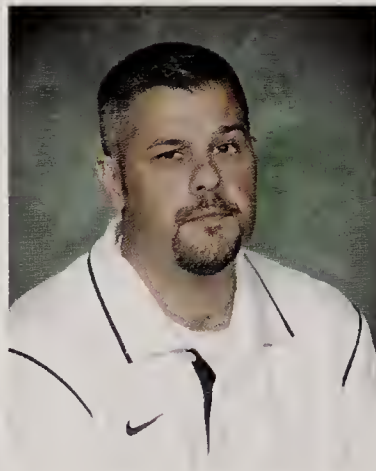

2014-2015 was an interesting and exciting year at Leicester High School. This year LHS welcomed their new Principal, Tracey Hippert. Mrs. Hippert hit the ground running, making some much overdue changes to the school's technology policy, allowing students to utilize their electronic devices more frequently. As the Leicester Public School's move towards a more technologically accessible campus, this was an important first step. Moreover, and in this vein, both Mrs. Hippert and Mr. Sheeran have begun using Twitter to better interact with students in real time, @LHS_Hippert and @LHS_sheeran respectively. The year was filled with the usual athletic contests, concerts and dances, but if it weren't for the faculty and staff's tireless chaperoning and shepherding of these events, they would not have been able to take place. This year also marked the additional of a number of new staff. Ms. Reider joined the faculty as an art teacher, and Ms. Engvall became the music teacher for Leicester High. Sadly, the year also marked the departure of Ms. Mason, Ms. Looney and Mrs. Duprey for the middle school. As they were much beloved and devoted teachers at LHS, they are sure to be the same for the middle school. As the year draws to a close, much is anticipated for the 2015-2016 school year as Leicester High School continues to build on its success, due in no small part to the efforts of the administration, faculty and staff.

Top: The Justice League, as coined by Senior Richie Garabedian, can usually be found meeting during lunches.

Bottom Left: New to teaching, but not new to Leicester High, Ms. Reider joined the faculty in January as an art teacher.

Senior Candid

Above: During their independent study blocks, (starting left clockwise) Brittany Bowes, Maddie Brennan, and Kayla DiPilato were hard at work completing their classwork. Maddie (French V) and Kayla (AP Economics) take part in Virtual High School, while Brittany had the day off from her internship at Comprehensive Physical Therapy in Leicester. The three said their classes were going well and have really enjoyed this alternative opportunity for learning.

Right Below: In one of the first dances of the school year, a bunch of seniors grouped together to show off their amazing dance moves. The dance was a success as all the students had a great night with their friends.

Right Above: While Mrs. Dutton tested her students to see how much they had read, Zach Squires leaned over to receive help on a question from a fellow classmate before she reached his group. He impressed his classmates with his vast knowledge of the reading requirements.

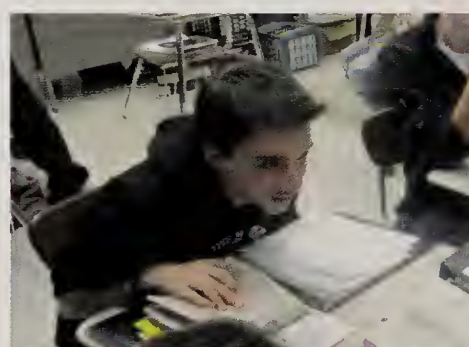

Above: Towards the end of class, Shannon Guenette rushed to copy all of her notes for AP Calculus. She had no difficulty learning the new material.

Above Right: While enjoying one of Leicester High's finest lunch options, Zack Keenan and Jessica Coyle listen intently to their friend's discussion. They were overjoyed to have first lunch that day because they were extremely hungry.

Right: Sporting their colorful clothing, Baylee Ford and Brittany Flynn joined their classmates in walking down to the food station following the Color Walk. They both had a great morning with their teammates, even though the chalk may have temporarily stained their cars.

Above: As students packed up to leave school, Richard Garabedian chose to rest for a few more precious seconds before having to gather up his books. The last block of the day always proves difficult to make it through.

Below: With great instruction from Ms. Reider, Mary Le painted a colorful masterpiece. Her painting was later displayed for all to see.

Left: In between classes, lifelong besties, Ryan Connor and Cullen Mars, were spotted on a leisurely stroll. They truly did embody their superlative.

Right: Soon after entering the gymnasium for physical education class, Shawn Mott began showing off his three-point shooting skills on the court. All that practice proved to pay off as Mott and the Varsity team qualified for districts for the first time in several years.

Left: Fulfilling her yearbook club duties, Katelyn Jyringi hung up posters in the hallway to promote the 2015 yearbook. These advertisements helped yearbook sales improve to reach their goal.

Right: After finishing their classwork, Ryan Connor, Cullen Mars, Brittany Flynn, and Michelle Piscopo began an intense game of ninja. Coming back from vacation, you could tell the students were still getting back into the swing of school.

Freshmen Year

Left: As freshman we did an awesome job decorating our section! That year we fought hard against the upperclassmen and showed that we would be tough competitors in the future!

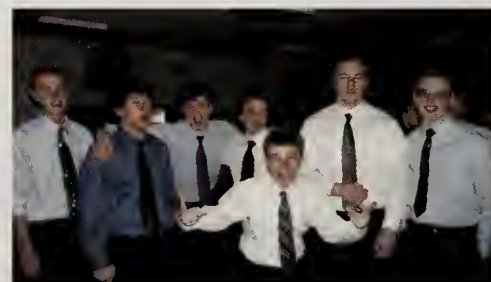

Our first chapter begins with our arrival at Leicester High School as timid freshmen. Though it took us a bit to get acclimated to school, we managed to have a good first year. The first year of elections allowed Patrick Taylor as President, Kyle Lambert as Vice President, Kailiyah Martinez as Secretary and Timothy Peltier as Treasurer. The four new officers worked with the sophomores on our first serious high school dance: semi. As officers they helped come up with the the idea of a Pizza and Dues Movie night to get together and pay our dues and developed the mantra "2015 Mean and Green" to go along with our new - admittedly florescent - green Olympic Foolery shirts.

Sophomore Year

Our second chapter arrived quickly as we welcomed three new class officers: Samuel Berman as President, Mary Brown as Vice President, and Kayla Dipilato as Secretary, with Timothy Peltier returning as Treasurer. Love was in the air with our delicious Butter Braids fundraiser and the Match Maker fundraiser. Our red carpet themed Semiformal was a huge success for sophomores and freshmen alike. At Olympic Foolery we abandoned the green shirts for maroon and experienced a triumph over the junior class - which wouldn't be our last.

Right: Z. Keenan, T. Bahnan, T. Peltier, Z. Squires, C. Doyle, D. LeBlanc, and S. Berman came together during the Winter Ball in the mist of having a great time!

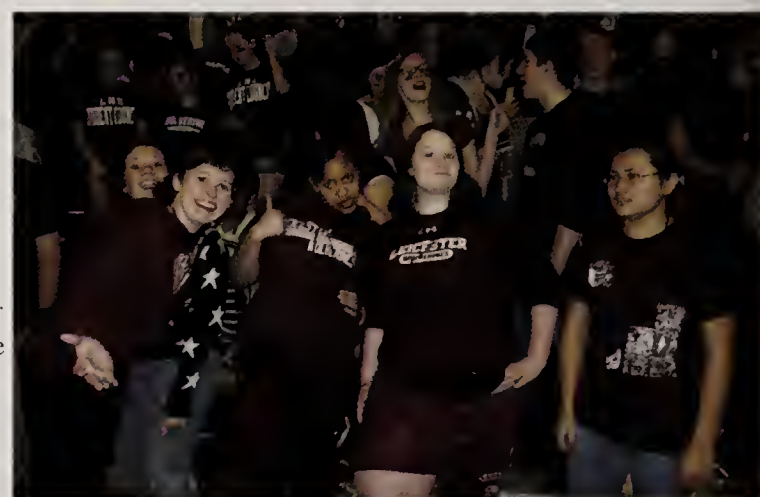

Right: Matthew Kilmonis, Cullen Mars, and Connor Davenport flashed a smile for the camera while they had waited in the stands to compete. All three showed great determination while they battled against the other grades.

Above: Shelby LaConte and Vivian Hernandez looked very nice all dressed up for their Semi Formal Dance. The two had a great time!

Class of 2015 Through the Years

Junior Year

By the time junior year rolled around we were pros at this 'high school' thing. Our officers were reelected with the addition of Kailiyah Martinez appointed as class historian. We introduced an Eller's Fundraiser for prom, where dozens of families and friends came out to support us. Our prom was the first ever held at Mount Wachusett and the Ski-lift was a huge hit as boys and girls in formal wear rode up and down the mountain. We will never forget the screams of Ms. Mason riding the ski lift at our prom. Our Starry Night Theme only made the night even better, as the dancing took place under the stars in the chilly April evening. At Olympic Foolery we swapped our maroon shirts for a total white-out and emerged triumphant over the seniors, taking first place for the junior class and bragging rights for the rest of the school year.

Above Left: Ms. Lavelle and Ayla Martinez scurry to gather items to place on the tray during the rally! Ms. Lavelle and Mr. Smith were a huge part of us winning that year!

Above: Once the appetizers were put out for everyone, Shannon Guenette, Anna Bachman, and Kelly Normandin enjoyed some outside on the deck. No one is going to forget how delicious and cheesy the mozzarella sticks were!

Right: During a pep rally we gathered in the junior section where we watched as the cheerleaders did their dance. The students were cheerful, excited and spirited.

Senior Year

Left: Kayla DiPilato and Timothy Peltier showed their school spirit on Camo Day. It was very hard to find the two to take the picture because they blended in so well!

Finally came our final chapter in Leicester High School. As seniors we persevered under more stress than we ever thought possible as future careers, colleges, financial aid, and our final grades occupied our minds. Once again, our officers were reelected for their final year. Our officers developed the design for the snazziest senior sweatshirts there ever were, hosted Hawaiian themed Winter Ball in December and provided hot chocolate to warm everybody up from the frigid weather. On top of the Yankee Candle fundraiser and the TV raffle, the Eller's fundraiser remained a great asset as we prepared for graduation at Hanover Theater on May 29th and senior dinner dance at Holy Cross. Although turning the page on our final chapter was bittersweet, we were ready to move on and start the next series of our lives. From the moment we entered the door of Leicester High School to the moment we left, we had developed friendships, experienced happiness and made lifelong memories.

Class Will 2015

I, Britnee Angell, leave behind my prayers for a snow day to next year's seniors. Seeing how you do not have to make them up.

I, Anna Bachman, leave behind my creative skills as well as my adoring appreciation for Art Club!

I, Tony Bahnan, leave behind my brother Alex. You're welcome.

I, Sam Berman, leave behind the joys of the math team for anyone who loves math as much as I do.

I, Kiana Beese, leave behind the infamous English teacher Mrs. Dutton, to correct all of the awful writing skills of my underclassmen.

I, Nick Bleau, leave behind a full head of hair to Mr. Lynch and Mr. Smith ;)

I, Brittany Bowes, leave behind my dad to my brother Shane. Good luck!

I, Maddie Brennan, leave behind the fun times at field hockey to Lauren "Lo" St. John and Grace Marc-Aurele, and my love for dance to Leana Radzik.

I, Mary Brown, leave behind my field hockey team to Hailey Boucher, the hockey super fan section to Julia Breed, my sports success to my brother AJ, and my AP classes to my cousin Hannah.

I, Brianna Carlson, leave behind my hopes and dreams of a snow day to Dr. Paolucci. I also leave behind my late night essay writing and endless hours of procrastination to Mrs. Dutton.

I, Noelle Casassa, leave behind my amazing cheerleading team and little sister Stephenie. I can't wait to see what next year will bring for them.

I, Ryan Connor, leave behind my goofiness, athletics, and a great senior year to my brother, Justin Connor.

I, Jess Coyle, leave behind my number three field hockey jersey to Michaela Davenport, the DT team memories to Leana Radzik, and our visits to the Cleveland's after school to Shelby Miller and Dave Mello.

I, Jonathan Daigneault, leave behind being occasionally present.

I, Connor Davenport, leave behind the fun and exciting memories to my two little sisters.

I, Ashley Debrusk, leave behind my position on Eboard to Mandy Saucier, our silly drama experiences to Shelby Miller, and our years of horseback riding to Abby Granville.

I, Alexandria DiCentes, leave behind my ever-changing hair color to Erica St. Francis and my student council duties to Jaymi Souza.

I, Kayla DiPilato, leave my time management skills and big shoes to fill to Hannah (Donutgirl) DiPilato. I also leave behind no regrets, not even one letter.

I, Christopher Doyle, leave behind my Eboard position to Jordan Degaetano. I also leave behind the LHS golf team, which I will miss dearly after a great season of being captain.

I, Trisha Dufault, leave behind my adorable cousin Kristina Jarowski to achieve all her goals and dreams.

I, Jasmine Edwards, leave behind a great year of competition cheerleading to Elisha Little, Lauren Badosa, and Sarah Mott. "Queens of 2015"

I, Brittany Flynn, leave behind all my teammates that have become my family and, on a less cheesy note, Sunday morning practices. Good Luck Girls.

I, Baylee Ford, leave behind my intelligence to Zak Ford and my popularity to Luke Ford, because they both clearly need it.

I, Sarah Gaffney, leave behind my family aka my basketball team, good luck and remember to "take care of the little things".

I, Richard Garabedian, leave my sweet beard to anyone who can grow one. Beards for all.

I, Shannon Guenette, leave behind my beautiful cheerleaders to an amazing and successful season next year.

I, Dylan Guinto, leave everything behind and never want to look back. Except for my baseball skills which my brother could never get.

I, Julia Hebert, leave behind my fuzzy ball shoes to Mr. Grimshaw and my athletic ability to Mr. Stanick.

I, Kassidy Hill, leave behind my Best Friend Erica St. Francis. Also I leave behind my sister Karlee Hill.

I, Danielle Hulett, leave behind my good grades to my brothers, Christian and Brett, and Lunch Club to Ms. Grimshaw.

I, Katelyn Jyringi, leave behind the joy and laughter I brought to everyone around me, you're welcome.

I, Zachary Keenan, leave behind my stage manager position to Dave Mello and/ or Caleb Cleveland. I also leave having to deal with Mrs. Dutton to you two.

I, Matthew Kilmosis, leave behind being the last Kilmonis to graduate, and also my position as soccer captain to Anthony Notaro.

I, Rachel Lamarche, leave behind Ms. Feighan and all of her wisdom to whoever needs it.

I, Mary Le, leave behind my Art Club obligations and perseverance through high school to my sister, Judy Le.

I, David LeBlanc, leave behind my position as captain of the football team to whoever works for it.

I, Cullen Mars, leave behind my sister, who is completely smarter than me.

I, Nick Miller, leave behind drama and music department leadership to all my favorite juniors and the title of "bloodhound" to whatever golf team member who takes it first.

I, Kelley Normandin, leave behind an amazing cheerleading season to the rest of the team. I also leave behind our crazy friday night football games.

I, Yulimier Ortiz, leave behind my vibrant personality, and endless selfies in Spanish class to Señora Mitchell.

I, Timothy Peltier, leave behind my position as Student Liaison to the School Committee to the next individual who wishes to promote change and amplify the collective voice of the student body.

I, Jason Radzick, leave behind my endless bathroom trips to David Herbst.

I, Amy Roberts, leave behind the wonderful memories of Ms. Cass and the love for art.

I, Sean Saucier, leave behind good memories and fun to my younger sister Mandy.

I, Zack Squires, leave behind my first two and a half years of high school awkwardness to Dave Mello and Caleb Cleveland.

I, Pat Taylor, leave behind waking up at 6AM to endure countless hours of homework, tests and mind- numbing lectures. Have fun.

I, Katie Tyndall, leave behind my baby sister Kailyn Schulman. I hope she has an awesome time finishing high school without me... Even though I know she won't. (:

I, Brianna Walls, leave behind Chris Laperle, Mike Army, and Brandon Murphy.

Live, Learn, Leave a Legacy

While this was considered the Class of 2015's year for good reason (calendars and such), the underclassmen also had numerous experiences that helped shape Leicester High School as a whole over the course of the one hundred and eighty days from August to June. The main focus of the junior class all year was Prom. Prom Committee was formed and decisions were rapidly made. The theme? The Great Gatsby. The venue? Zukas Hilltop Barn. The date? April 24th. The objective? Have a great, great time. Meanwhile, the freshmen and sophomores collaborated together on their dance, the semi-formal. On March 27th, the Welcome to New York themed romp took Leicester High School by storm, making sure everyone enjoyed their first exposure to elaborate, high school-level formalities. Planning Semi was just one of the many events that freshmen had the pleasure of involving themselves with for their first year of high school. They hosted a movie night where the classic Will Ferrell film, Elf, was shown. Also, you could always see some ninth graders ready to accept the class dues of their comrades. Speaking of comrades, another freshman tradition was the reading of George Orwell's famed novel, Animal Farm. This book was just one part of an extensively enriching ninth grade curriculum. Tenth graders, on the other hand, read books like To Kill a Mockingbird and Night. Leicester's sophomores were the primary planners of the Semi and to speak from experience, it was great training for their Prom. This was the year that sophomores weren't simply looked at as "freshman". They were now older, they were the sophomores developing into school leaders. Lastly, while LHS's eleventh graders organized Prom, they also were a part of so many other aspects of the year like fundraising and class events. The juniors hosted a night filled with karaoke following an ambitious and exhaustive process of selling Little Caesar's pizzas. All that money from the farfetched descendant of Julius Caesar sure did come in handy with class expenditures. It was also just part of the fundraising effort this year that also included a car wash on a brisk spring weekend and the initiative to gear up for Olympic Foolery in April. Juniors were also given a taste as to what senior year will be like when they toured the DCU Center as a potential graduation venue. With college applications, AP exams, and SATs looming, the juniors certainly had their hands full this year. But what better way to experience a school year than keeping oneself constantly busy? There is no shortage of memories to be made at Leicester High School and this 2014-15 calendar year was definitely one to remember.

- David Mello

Once Madison Sherman was informed that she was going to have to take a French quiz, she studied all of her words and grammar rules as fast as she could. Her strong academic efforts led her to do well in class.

After Collin Giguere and Atticus Kane turned on their computers and logged on, they began to complete an assignment. Leicester High School's technology was always reliable and fast...lol.

Underclassmen

Above: After these juniors went through all the stations at the color run. They were covered with chalk. No one came out of that run clean.

Left: Once music class began, Brandon Clay got out his guitar and began to jam with the rest of the students. Thanks to Ms. Engvall, many people learned how to play an instrument.

Above: When Mr. Alfonso took attendance, the students liked to eat, sleep, or talk. Everyone always tried to get in a little extra relaxation time before a teacher officially started class.

Left: While Zakary Ford was supposed to be painting a scene, he decided to take out his phone and text bae. Unfortunately texting bae was a waste of his time because he got swerved.

Below: When Mrs. Nadeau wanted to review a topic in chemistry class, they played basketball games. Her students certainly scored high on tests.

Above: Once the sophomore powder puff football team walked onto the football field, they formed into a huddle. Their efforts were great and they were fierce competition.

Left: By the time Megan Steiger and Madison Dufries returned to the high school, they were drenched in chalk colors. Everyone had a blast with their teams as they participated in the color run.

Right: During tutorial, the couple Lucas Ford and Amanda Saucier would hangout in a class together. Tutorial was a great time for homework, meetings, gossiping, and more.

Class of 2016

Junior year, already? A year of Little Caesars pizza, SATS, prom, and memories. The junior class put the “pizza” in “Pizza, Pizza!” From personal to party sized, we sold so many pies, raising a great amount of dough for the class. We annihilated the fundraising of Little Caesars, knowing that each kit sold was another promise for the most incredible prom ever. In the spring we enjoyed “A Gatsby Affair”, a lavish ball thrown by yours truly, the class of 2016. With the gold and glamour, similar to that of Jay Gatsby, our prom outshone any other. Prom was a wonderful time to share with friends and memories that will be cherished for a lifetime. The class of 2016 has been together forever and has grown even closer because our shared experience of “A Gatsby Affair.” Senior year is right around the corner. Who knows what is next!

Class of 2017

Now sophomores, the class was glad to be done with their freshman year. Everyone began to find their place within the school and pursue their interests. With prom in mind, the class of 2017 had a very busy year fundraising. Sophomore year resulted in the selling of butterbraids and purchasing of class rings. Each event ended in a successful profit that will go toward future class events. In addition to class fundraising, the class of 2017 was in charge of the freshmen sophomore semi-formal, where everyone certainly had a blast. Along with the school dances, the class was excited for another Olympic Foolery and decorated their section fantastically. The class of 2017 always shows school spirit and is ready for a challenge.

Class of 2018

Coming to Leicester High School, the class of 2018 did not know what to expect, in terms of classes, teachers, schoolwork, clubs/activities, and the upperclassmen. We did not know if we would be accepted! Of course, these are the fears that freshmen everywhere most likely share. But then reality kicks in, and each day gets better, more exciting, and more rewarding. Leicester has so much to offer, from a big selection of different curriculum options to a variety of after school clubs and sports. Being introduced to the new routines and events of high school, we were all pleasantly surprised with our experiences! The class of 2018 is very excited for our years to come. No matter what our interests were, we found a place at Leicester.

Student Life

Right: As Mr. Lennerton was enlightening his students on the infinite amount of history in the world, they were overwhelmed by all the information. But no matter what, his students still loved his animated teaching styles.

Above: After Mrs. Dutton finished reviewing an intense chapter in a book, her students were given a moment to relax. They laughed and gossiped as they enjoyed their free time.

Left: Once all the students in the art class got their supplies out, they all patiently and diligently painted. All of their masterpieces were admirable and unique.

Below: Once Mrs. Feighan began a discussion on the latest book the class was reading, the students did not hesitate to get comfortable in their desks. Her way of teaching clearly excited her students.

Above: Once Mrs. Nadeau passed out worksheets for the class to work on, the students worked together to figure out the answers. They all bonded as they discussed chemistry.

Below: After he was called to the front of the class, Timothy Peltier presented a topic of interest to his peers and specifically Mrs. Dutton. His discussions in class will never be forgotten or understood.

Above: After Sra. Mitchell passed out a class work assignment, the students spoke and listened to each other in Spanish. Everyone enjoyed learning a new language.

Below: After reading a short story, Mr. Cleveland had his students answer critical questions on the text. His teaching ways will never be forgotten, nor the youtube videos he played in class.

Above: Once Madame Southwick assigned book work in class, the students had to read and practice French grammar styles. No one could resist the temptation of speaking this romantic language.

Below: After the nets were set in place on the gym floor, nitroball teams were selected and they competed against each other. Whether someone was a gym class hero or a shy student, everyone got riled up playing this game.

Above: When students finished an assignment early or wanted a break, it was never a surprise to catch them on their phones. People always have to sneak in some time to send a text, listen to some music, or play a game.

Left: Once everyone got their goggles and lab aprons on, they began a pH and buffer solution lab. Performing experiments during class was always a fun and interesting time.

Below: After the VHS students were accepted into their online classes, they slaved over their computers. These students liked the freedom of picking a class and being self directed.

Eatin' Turkey and Beatin' Prouty

The annual rivalry continued this year with the long-awaited Leicester versus David Prouty Thanksgiving game. The student body showed their Wolverine pride by motivating the football team at the Thanksgiving rally where the seniors, to nobody's surprise, beat out their competition in the class relay race. The cheerleaders impressed everyone in the stands as they performed their routine showcased at States.

Tons of Leicester fans came out to support the Wolverines as they hosted the visiting Panthers in the Battle of the Breezy Bend. Despite the bone-chilling weather conditions, Leicester showed no fear and took home their third consecutive win by the score 14-6. With inches of snow covering the field, it looked like this game would be an interesting one.

The Wolverines showed their strength and skill right from the first whistle as junior Malachi Ceely ran the ball up the field's outer edge for a 68 yard touchdown on the first play of the game. Senior captain Shawn Mott followed by taking in the conversion rush after Ceely's score. Finding the same sideline, Mott scored from 25 yards for a 14-0 lead in the first play of the second quarter.

The seniors were all happy they could end their last season with a big, hard-fought win after a great season played by all. The Twelfth player award went to junior Ryan Stanick and our own senior captain David LeBlanc received the LCAC Senior Leadership Award. This was a game the seniors will no doubt remember and the team expects nothing less than to crush Prouty again next year and continue the winning streak.

Below: Shawn Mott carried the ball often in the adverse conditions. Leicester adjusted early to the snow and Mott found the traction close to the sidelines

Below: While throwing the ball was difficult on that day quarterback Nick Make did manage to connect on a few key throws that kept drives alive. On this day the threat of the pass set up the run.

Above: David Prouty learned pretty early in the game that Leicester, despite their record going in, was not going to allow an opposing win on their field. Running was difficult, and with Leicester pulling you down even more so.

Homecoming 2014

Each year Homecoming is something that is looked forward to by all students. This year Homecoming was the week of September fifteenth. The week was filled with fun activities, from games at lunch to the Homecoming dance. During the week each day has a different theme, encouraging students to show their school spirit and dress up. Along with these themes are lunchroom games that are geared towards getting students involved! On Friday, however, the theme is school spirit and students cover themselves from head to toe in school attire and colors. Friday afternoon, before being dismissed from school, the annual Homecoming rally was held and all of the all sports teams are recognized and wished good luck. Along with that, eight seniors were recognized as part of the Homecoming court, two of which are named Homecoming King and Queen. Friday night, in the cafeteria, was the Homecoming dance. The turnout was spectacular and everyone had a good time dancing along to the music. Saturday was the day of varsity sports. This year, all sports teams faced the Oxford Pirates in their Homecoming matches. The Girls Field Hockey team was the first to play, followed by Girls Soccer and Boys Soccer; and of course ending with the Varsity Football team, who were cheered on by the cheerleaders. Each team managed to pull through and get a win! It was a great Homecoming that will be remembered by all! SCORES: Field Hockey: 2-1, Girls Soccer: 3-0, Boys Soccer: 5-1, Football: 38-6 Golf: 4-5.

Left: The Boys Varsity Soccer huddled around captains Matthew Kilmonis and Cullen Mars before the start of the game. Their teamwork lead them to victory.

A Starry Night

Junior Prom 2014

The Class of 2015's junior year prom was truly a starry night. The venue and date, chosen by the class officers, was the beautiful Wachusett Mountain Ski Resort on April 25th, 2014. All of junior year, Prom was all the girls and guys could think and talk about. Who will I go with? What will I wear? Dress? Nails? Hair? Shoes? Tux? Corsage? Boutonniere? Limo? Who will be on the prom court? Prom king and queen? After party? Prom had everyone's mind racing. So prom committee did not hesitate to get the ball rolling when junior year began. They voted on the theme "A Starry Night", they made mason jars filled with mints and tissue paper as party favors, they elaborately decorated the tables with dazzling center pieces, they draped stars all around the rooms, and much much more. Clearly all their efforts paid off because prom turned out dazzling. Before everyone went off to Wachusett on prom day, it was a tradition that all of the juniors met up together at the town common to see friends and family and take pictures. After all of that was settled, all of the prom guests got into their groups and went off to prom in their separate limos. The ride to Wachusett was filled with excitement and anticipation. Everyone was thinking "It is finally here, the moment we have all been waiting for."

Finally everyone arrived at Wachusett and the night began. They received their party favors and found their assigned tables. Then soon after delicious mozzarella sticks, vegetables and drinks were put out as appetizers. The prom guests enjoyed appetizers, ski lift rides, dancing, and the photo booth. After a while, it was time for dinner. All of the prom guests enjoyed an exquisite buffet of food. Once meal time was over, guests went into the tent to listen to music and dance off the food. But soon enough it was time for the sugary ice cream buffet that no one was able to resist. Then it was time for the prom court to be announced. Michelle Piscopo was prom queen. Cullen Mars was prom king. Anna Bachman, Haley Matthews, Sarah Eldridge, Elizabeth Scotia, Antronic Bahnan, Zachary Keenan, Samuel Gregory, and Brandon Murphy were all on the prom court. After that was announced, prom kept on going. More dancing, laughing, and picture taking. But unfortunately the night had to come to an end. Everyone packed up their things and headed off back into their limos. Prom was a blast, and it was certainly a rite of passage to remember.

Above: Once the prom committee received all the supplies needed for the party favors, they stuffed mason jars with mints and tissue paper. Everyone who attended the prom enjoyed their minty breath and starry night jars.

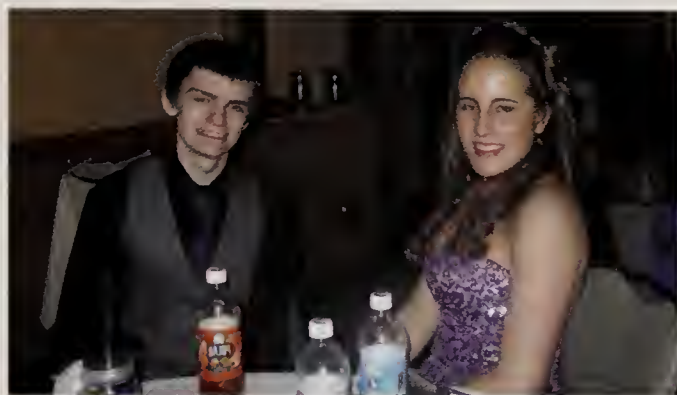

Above: After a tent and tables were set up outside on the deck, music and appetizers were supplied. Everyone feasted on vegetables and mozzarella sticks as they enjoyed a ride up and down the mountain.

Below: After Wachusett staff members put tables in place for the dining area, the prom committee set the tables with tablecloths, utensils, plates, napkins, glasses, and center pieces. The tables looked marvelous.

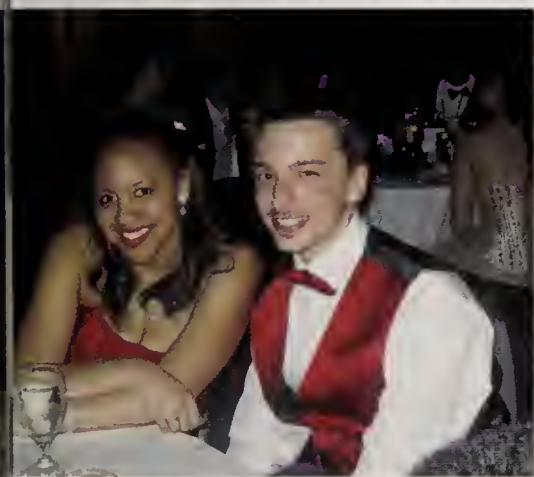

Above: After Kiana Besse and her date danced their feet off on the deck, they came inside to rest at a table. With all the picture taking, dancing, and eating, people really needed some time to relax.

Above: Once Cassidy Radziewicz and Alexandria DiCentes arrived at the town common, they greeted and admired each other. They certainly did look pretty in pink.

Left: When it was time for everyone to come inside and eat dinner, Arriana-Rose Carney and Zackery Squires sat down together. They shared some great, quality moments when they went to prom together.

Right: When girls posed for pictures, their dresses looked stunning next to one another. Sure prom dresses were expensive, but it was worth every penny because they were all gorgeous.

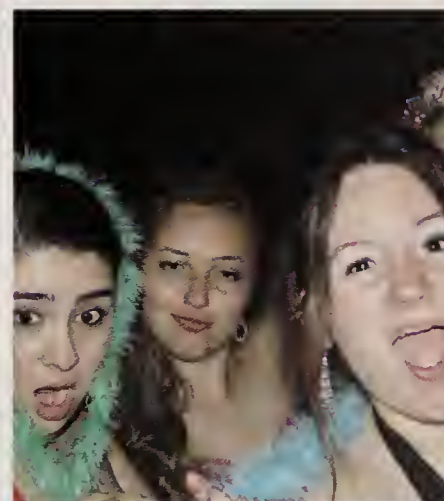

Above: Once friends arrived at the town common, they got together and took pictures with each other and their dates. Every girl looked beautiful and every guy looked handsome that night.

Above: When a guy takes a girl to prom, they buy a beautiful corsage for their date. The intricately designed flowers, ribbons, and gems looked stunning with all of the girls' dresses.

Left: Since Mrs. Belhumeur homeroom was like a family, they could not go to prom without taking a picture together. This homeroom wins for most loving and fancy.

Right: It was no surprise that Chans Squires and Brittany Ward went to prom together. They were definitely one of the cutest and most elegant couples there.

Above: Before setting up to run one last play in the field that night, the senior class girls huddled up one last time with their coaches to figure out what the best play to run in a touch football game would be.

LHS' 2014 Powderpuff Football game was held on November 21. Despite the frigid temperatures, girls each grade came out with their game faces to compete for the pink football. The freshman challenged the juniors for the first game of the night. The class of 2018 got their first taste of LHS Powderpuff football while sporting the classic freshman blue. Although they were defeated by the juniors, they showed great potential. In the next game the seniors challenged the sophomores. Although the class of 2017 fought hard, the seniors ultimately claimed the win. Following the senior vs. sophomore game, the two losing teams battled each other in a short game to determine third place. The sophomore class came out on top and claimed third place. In this year's final, the class of 2016 took on the class of 2015. The seniors looked fierce in their fully black uniforms which clearly intimidated the juniors. Both teams battled to score a touchdown, but with no luck. When the time ran out, the score was still tied: 0-0. This called for a tie-breaker. Each team was asked to choose five players to compete in a kick-off competition. The team to score the most field goals would take home the pink football. After a back and forth competition, the seniors claimed victory. Thank you to Coach Griff and our old friend Mr. Lauder for officiating the games as well as Student Council for their efforts that allow Powderpuff to happen!

Clubs and Activities

Left: Brittany Flynn and Sarah Gaffney sat down together to discuss their plans for the yearbook. Their great collaboration and creative ideas made it impressive.

Right: Nicholas Miller and Sarah Moughan joined each other on the stage for drama club. They rehearsed their lines together. All of their practice truly paid off when they put on some great shows for the play.

Right: Brittany Bowes and Baylee Ford met in the cafeteria for a meeting; they consulted about ideas and events for student council. Their involvement and dedication brought school spirit to the students and faculty.

Below: Drama students gathered on stage where Mrs. Dutton instructed them in what lines, songs, dances, and scenes to practice. Her dedication to the play rubbed off on all of the students, causing everyone to work hard and try performing the play to perfection.

Above: The Art Club gathered for a meeting during tutorial to discuss what they will be doing after school to work on the sets for the Drama Club. Their hard work has been much appreciated by Mrs. Dutton.

Below: The Gay Straight Alliance posed for a picture with their colorful flag. The students in this group work hard to spread awareness and love for all people.

Senior Officers

With the help of their advisers, Mr. Smith and Ms. Lavelle, and the class officers, Sam Berman (President), Mary Brown (Vice President), Kayla DiPilato (Secretary), and Tim Peltier (Treasurer), our class successfully held many fundraisers and events. We started off by selling Yankee Candles which was a successful campaign. Then we sold raffle tickets for a 46" flat screen TV which was another great success and helped reduce the price of our senior sweatshirts. In April, at Olympic Foolery we had a great time decking out the senior section in black and fighting hard in several competitions. This was a great way to end the Friday just before our last school vacation as high school students. As we came back from break we finished our classes and were free to enjoy our many senior activities. Many of us received scholarships at Senior Night where we celebrated our many accomplishments. Next came class day where we looked back on the last four years, laughed as we saw ourselves as awkward freshman, honored some of our friends as they received department awards, and felt both happy and sad as we realized this part of our life was coming to an end. Finally, on May 29th, 2015 our class graduated and said goodbye as we began the next chapter of our lives.

Junior Officers

Little Caesar's pizza, SATS, prom, and memories, Junior year. The junior class was very successful in selling Little Caesar's. From personal to party sized, they sold so a great deal of pizzas resulting in a great profit of dough for the class. The fundraising pizza kits was the gateway leading to the best prom ever. In the spring we enjoyed "A Gatsby Affair", a grandiose ball thrown by the class of 2016. With the lavish lifestyle of Jay Gatsby as the theme, their prom was the most lavish Leicester High School has ever seen. Prom was a wonderful time to share with friends and memories that will be cherished for a lifetime. The class of 2016 have been together forever and grew even closer because our shared experience of "A Gatsby Affair". Senior year is coming and the class of 2016 is ready to go!

Sophomore Officers

Believe it or not, being a class officer gives you great opportunities. Being a class officer requires experience that must be used to do the job well. Class officers show great potential for future careers and should be rewarded for that they give to others. It also helps in giving you a better opportunity in being accepted to college. Class Officers know how to handle any problem at hand. If they do not know the direct answer right away they should have the skill to understand what is happening and find a way to fix the problem to the best of their abilities.

Our four sophomore class officers are able to do that. These officers are President Brendon Clay, Vice President Harsh Patel, Secretary Isabelle Notaro, and Treasurer Baylen Harper. In addition to their social skills and analytical skills, each of these sophomore officers understand what their peers like and dislike most so they are able to represent them to the best of their abilities.

Freshmen Officers

Being a class officer is not easy. The four officer positions are President Chris Porcaro, Vice President Tracey Michael, Secretary Paige Doku, and Treasurer Shawn Soucie. As an officer many jobs and tasks are given, some that require all of the officers and others that only require one. These tasks include preparing or setting up for a class movie night, planning a dance, or even spreading the word about the latest fundraiser to get customers. It is also important to encourage your fellow classmates to join clubs, try out for sports teams, etc. But above all, the goal of the class officers is to be an example for your classmates to follow. The job of the president includes being model student and friend, as well as run the class officer meetings. The jobs of the Vice President are very similar to that of the president. These include giving opinions on the upcoming events that have been decided, and combining ideas with the president on final decisions about things, like announcements for fundraisers. It's the secretary's job to make sure the officers work together as a team and everything moves smoothly. Lastly, the treasurer not only handles money, they also have a voice in the Officer's meetings and have a lot of say as to what goes on.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society Horace Mann Chapter is a prestigious organization that recognizes and encourages academic achievement in high schools across the country. This organization strives to develop the quality of leadership, character, and service. Juniors and seniors may be eligible for National Honor Society by achieving a grade point average of 90 or above. These students submit an information sheet that is reviewed by a five member Faculty Council. A formal induction is then held in the fall of each school year for the new inductees. Once inducted, members must attend meetings to discuss and plan community service projects and activities. These projects include helping at the Leicester Food Pantry, collecting clothing for Cradles to Crayons, organizing a Red Cross blood drive, and throwing a #FlashbackFriday Dance. Each National Honor Society member is required to complete at least 10 hours of time out of school doing an Individual Service Project (ISP). Each member is required to remain in good standing as citizens of Leicester High School.

Student Council

Student Council is a leadership group composed of 4 teams led by 7 Executive Board leaders. Directed by Mrs. Belhumeur, the Executive Board 2014-2015 members are Jordan DeGaetano, Sarah Gaffney, Mandy Saucier, Ashley DeBrusk, Zachary Keenan, Christopher Doyle, and Alex DiCentes. The teams meet both together and separately to plan and discuss activities. The devoted members of Student Council were individually chosen during an application process in which they were selected based on their leadership, character, and contributions to the school. This school year, Student Council was responsible for the Back-to-School Dance, the Homecoming Dance, lunchtime activities, Powderpuff Football, Cutthroat Cake Decorating Competition, Spirit Week, and the Talent Show. Thank you to the seniors this year and senior Executive Board members Sarah, Ashley, Zach, Chris, and Alex for being a significant part of Council throughout your high school careers.

Teens Act

Teens Act was started at Leicester High School in 2013 by Ms. LaPrad. Our group is comprised of the schools Student Ambassadors that work to spread awareness of teenage dating violence which occurs everywhere and everyday. One in three teenagers in America experiences some sort of relationship violence, and many teens do not have the courage to leave their abusive relationship, to get out of them. The Teens Act team has gotten together to raise awareness by hanging up posters around our school. These posters state facts about teenage dating violence and lists an emergency hotline number that can be called to anonymously report abuse. We organize every other Tuesday in order to formulate ideas for different projects that will spread awareness about teenage dating violence to the entire school. Lindsey Carpenter leads the group and purchases supplies for our projects with money that was given to us through a grant. For one of our projects we have every third person that walked into school a purple dating violence ribbon. Then, during the morning announcements we instructed every person who was given a ribbon to stand. We explained that each person standing represented someone in an abusive relationship. This project was carried out with the vision of affecting people personally. As a group we desire to impact the lives of others in a positive way. We perform these types of projects in hopes of influencing people to stand up for themselves if they are being mistreated, and we wish to continue to make a difference in peoples lives by inspiring them to muster up their courage to do something.

Math Team

Love the spirit of competition? Or the experience of being on a top notch team that competes among giants? Or even the sensation of mental titillation? Well, for those that do, the ultimate answer is Math Team! As has been repeated before, Math team is the only team at LHS that one doesn't have to be an athlete in the physical sense to join. Instead, we pursue the higher purpose of mental, mathematical athletics, since for a lack of a better reason, we love math! Each year we partake in four meets across Worcester County, competing against a diverse array of schools. We are trained and prepared by no other than Mrs. Grimshaw, who pushes us onwards into mathematical success. This year we are proud to say that we have been leading in our division, winning first place in two meets and second in another. Excitingly this year we finally were able to bust out our own Math Team T-shirts, which we wore proudly to every meet! So far this year, the LHS Math Team has found something to celebrate at the end of each match. During a meet we are given ten minutes to answer three increasingly difficult questions, the harder the questions the more points we receive, without calculators I might add. In the final round we band together for the team round, in which we can work together to solve ten nearly impossible questions. Exhausted from our strenuous mental exertion we are rewarded with cookies and juice while we wait the results. However, upon reflection, it is not the victory we celebrate, but rather the knowledge that our mathematical abilities have increased tenfold and that we have earned something new. For us, all of this is done in the wonderful spirit of math.

Drama

Leicester High School drama is one of those experiences that students can only take good things from. Members learn not only to dance, sing, act and perform, but also how to work collaboratively on a very personal level. Drama is as much a team effort as any group project or sport. We rely heavily on one another to be prepared to act out scenes and perform numbers. We have a fantastic time doing it and everyone makes a few, long lasting friendships along the way. The play for 2015 was A Night At the Wax Museum. This was a perfect play because it was not only one of Ms. Dutton's annual musicals, but it also gave every actor and actress an opportunity to show their skills on stage because every person in the play this year had lines. The cast had a marvelous time growing closer to a family while they learned to belt out new songs, move with new choreography and become new people as they changed into their characters. This year's play was a great success thanks to such an amazing cast and the seniors will sure be missed next year.

Tri-M

There are few people devoted to music more than the members of Tri-M Music Honor Society. Our membership is comprised of a wide array of talented individuals and each of them proves themselves to be an artist in their own right. Singers, composers, and instrumentalists alike, we take pleasure in discovering new modes of expression; whether that is through jamming to a hard rock beat, swinging to a jazz standard, or adding our own unique twist to a top 40 hit. Our members have proven themselves to be outstanding musicians because each of them have auditioned and taken the oath of Modern Music Masters. Led by our officers, Timothy Peltier (President), Nick Miller (Vice President), Ayla Martinez (Secretary), Austin Pratte (Treasurer), Kayla DiPilato (Historian), and advised by Ms. Engvall, we work together to better understand and spread the message of music. We are not only inventive and passionate daredevils of the musical arts, but also caring individuals who seek to advance the study of music in our musicians in the junior bands, and advertise the overall spirit of music. In Tri-M you will find community. The truly beautiful thing is that despite our personal ambitions to reach the limits of our personal artistic potentials, we can all come together, as individuals, to undergo a creative dialogue.

Chorus

As a member of the chorus, you will learn we have something truly beautiful here at Leicester High School. The moment you take a step into the music room, everyone welcomes you with open arms. From the warm-ups to the concerts, it's a good time. The first thing done is dividing everyone into voice ranges; alto, soprano, tenor, and bass. We learn music dictation, melody, and harmony. Some days are spent singing the same part over and over, just to get that perfect sound. Sometimes we do karaoke. Each day brings something different. By the end of the year chorus holds three concerts, joined by A Capella and solo acts. These concerts are what we work up to, they are always a blast for those watching and performing. By the end of the semester everyone is loathing to say goodbye to the chorus family. But the most important thing learned is: Anyone may become a good singer if he or she puts his or her heart to it. Together, we create a masterpiece.

A Capella

A Capella choir is a select group of singers that gather together to perform for various musical event and concerts. It was the first official a capella choir here at Leicester High School. A capella is a group of singers that have the ability to sing without the use of any instruments, for those Pitch Perfect lovers out there "it's when we make music only using our mouth." Members had to audition in order to become a member of this prestigious club. Students meet after school on their own time to rehearse vocal arrangements in soprano, alto, tenor and bass for pieces performed at school concerts.

The school concerts were a great place to showcase the group's talents, and we had an amazing debut as a new choir. This is a very tight knit group and we can deliver quite the performance. As a group we help each other out at every moment. From trying to match just the right pitch to calming each other down right before a big show. We are not only friends but a family. We are ready for any challenge given to us and we are always ready to pick each other up.

Art Club

The Leicester High School Art Club contributes largely to the school and community. The Art Club officers are Mary Le as President, Anna Bachman as Vice President, Elizabeth Scotia as Secretary, Kailiyah Martinez and Emma Witbeck as Executive Officers, and Ayla Martinez and Jeremy Gaudet as Publishers. Led by Ms. Cassanelli for the first semester and our new Art Club director, Ms. Reider, Art Club members volunteer to face paint at the town's Harvest Fair, as well as Spencer's Breezy Garden in the fall. The club is also recognized for hosting the Craft Fair in the winter and playing a major role in creating props and backdrops for the annual performance put up each year by the Drama Club.

Environmental Club

The LHS Environmental Science Club is a club based on environmental awareness and action. Throughout the years their club has expanded successfully and now has about 35 members. The club meets once a week to discuss environmental issues throughout our state as well as our country. Also, students who have joined do countless hours of community service to take action against the issues we find. Our organization also participates in what is known as the Envirothon. The Envirothon team is part of a yearly environmental science competition aimed at helping our local community and making student more aware of our environment. Several training sessions take place at local colleges and it's a great way to get to know students from other schools. It's a blast for everyone involved and has a positive impact on our community.

History Club

The members of the History Club never quite have a proper sense of what time period they are living in. We are, for lack of a better phrase, "old school": fascinated by everything that is dusty and ancient. The History Club, advised by Leicester's reigning history expert Mr. Lennerton, is for all those who have a passion in learning about our past. We seek to understand history and all of its nuances in as many creative and interactive ways possible. Our officers Timothy Peltier (President), Jess Coyle (Vice President), Samantha Mars (Treasurer), and Mary Brown (Secretary) work devotedly, along with other club members, to organize our club events. This year, the History Club embarked on a trip to the Newport Mansions and also hosted several history-themed (go figure) movie nights. Our dedicated members are currently working on projects that highlight Leicester's own rich history: one presenting the history of Leicester schools and the other displaying the distinguished alumni of Leicester High School. The History Club ensures that all its members will have a fantastic and exciting experience while studying their favorite subject. We live by the motto that we can only understand the present with the full knowledge of our past.

Film Club

Whether it was to gather with friends to relax or play video games with classmates, Film Club was a great way to get together and have a grand ol' time. Smartboards were an amazing, yet extremely important factor to our set-up, even though we faced many technical difficulties when it came to understanding them! It was a great way to watch projected movies on the ginormous screen in the library. The Film Club was able to bring out the very best in its members. Whether it was delicious, homemade red velvet cupcakes or "Teen Titans"-themed cakes, Film Club members knew how to treat themselves! No matter if it was Bowser vs. Mario or an all-out Kirby brawl, everyone alike had an enjoyable time! Everyone in our group had the ability to attribute their ideas for events so that all felt they were an important attribution to our fun little community. It sometimes was slightly difficult to decide between two shows, such as watching "Teen Titans", "Doctor Who", or "Shaun of the Dead". No matter the situation though, a movie or TV show would always pop up, and it would always be the perfect one! From the harmless screams of terror we had from watching zombie movies, to the unrepeatable dance moves we made up while playing "Just Dance", we were sure to never be bored. And let's just say that no one will forget our supportive, dedicated, and downright fantastic supervisor Mrs. Bernier! Without her, this club would not even be a club! As the past members look back into this glorious book of memories, I hope they never forget our quirky way of a having good time.

Chemistry Club

The Leicester High School Chemistry Club is a small club of passionate scientists in training. Whether it's making tee shirt designs, deciding on experiments, or making a sign for the Activities fair, Chemistry Club is always up to questioning the world around them and doing everything they can to discover it. The club is directed by Mrs. Nadeau with the help of her trusty officers: Stephanie La as treasurer, Mary Le as secretary, Danielle Hulette as Vice President and Kailiyah Martinez as President. If you ever want to know what happens to magnesium when you light it on fire, or simply want to periodically exchange some jokes with Mrs. Nadeau, Chemistry Club is the place to be.

Gay Straight Alliance

The Gay Straight Alliance (GSA) is run by Ms. LaPrad with the help of the officers. the President of the club is Jamie Adkins, with Vice President Deidra Jessing, Treasurer Michael Nderitu, and Secretary Rose Grady. In GSA the members are dedicated creating awareness about discrimination towards gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender persons. They strive to promote tolerance and acceptance among the student body. They often can be found making posters and signs that are hung up around school to promote what they stand for. Determination to make the halls of Leicester High School a safer and friendlier place is what these students strive for.

Newspaper

Newspaper consists of dedicated journalists who have a passion for writing. Though we are a small club, we manage to create a monthly newspaper containing articles on everything from SNL's latest skit to where our Christmas traditions come from. We meet every Friday, but our activities (as well as the paper itself) can be found on our student-run twitter, @arrownewspaper. A link to our paper can also be found on the school website. Our prestigious group of students work as hard as possible to get out what's going on in the school to you. With the help of our advisers, Mrs. Lavelle and Mrs. Dutton, we are able to get the paper written and edited in a very timely manor. We work hard to make sure you as students know what's going on both in and outside of school.

Ski Club

Throughout 6 weeks of the winter, the ski club ventures to Mount Wachusett in Princeton, MA. The mountain has a lot to offer including many slopes, great food, and of course always a great time! The students enjoy their Wednesday afternoons at the mountain with their friends. They can either ski or snowboard where the slopes vary from the green circle to blue square to black diamond to the terrain park. After a long day of skiing you can go into the lodge. There you can enjoy a great meal and some delicious hot chocolate. The bus ride is as enjoyable as the mountain itself! All of our students have a great time riding up, whether its jamming out to music or challenging one another on Trivia Crack. Amazing scenery surrounds the mountain as you are riding up; included is the sight of the big city... Boston! Ms. LaPrad, our health teacher does a great job chaperoning us along with the middle school students. You will always catch her shredding down the black diamond trails or enjoying a rich flavored hot chocolate inside the warm ski lodge. In addition, Ms. LaPrad is accompanied by some middle school teachers who also do an outstanding job. After our time is up, the buses are loaded with the ski and snowboard equipment by the chaperones. There is not much after that besides the bus ride home which is consistent with our students reflecting on the thrilling day they had!

Winning is a Habit, Success is a Choice

What a year for Leicester High School athletics it has been. There have been many changes, and often with change comes renewed vigor and success.

One thing that wasn't a change was the varsity softball team qualifying for the District Tournament yet again. Also, the girls track and field and tennis teams qualified for the District Tournament as well. A highlight of the spring tournament season, and something new for LHS, was Brittany Flynn and Sarah Gaffney advancing to the 2nd round of individual District play before falling to Westborough after a hard fought match.

There were many coaching changes for the fall athletic season. Reed Cleveland was hired to lead the boys varsity soccer team, and lead he did, shepherding them into the District Tournament. The boys, while ranked high, suffered a disappointing and surprising loss in the first round to Douglas. The girls soccer team and the golf team advanced to the tournament yet again in 2014. The girls were defeated by Holy Name in the tournament and the golf team competed at Blissful Meadows Golf Club. The varsity football team underwent a rebuilding year, but finished strong, winning three of their last four games, including a victory in the 45th Battle of Breezy Bend versus David Prouty. In cross country, Kaitlyn Pajer and Emily Moughan, although both underclassmen, were selected as SWCL All-Stars, and Kaitlyn was a unanimous first team selection. Maybe the highlight of the Fall season was the cheering team winning both Southern Worcester County League and District titles. Coach Sibley brought them to the State Tournament in Lowell where they placed 8th.

The biggest change to LHS athletics came in the winter season. Leicester Hoops - both boys and girls- have become a force to be reckoned with. The boys qualified for the tournament for the first time in over a decade. Not only that, but they also were selected for the Clark Invitational Basketball Tournament. This was the first time Leicester was represented in his annual event in the past 11 years. The boys represented Leicester very well. The girls basketball team, for the second year in a row, advanced to the tournament under the coaching of David Stanick.

It was a great year in athletics and athletes, coaches and parents can expect more good things to come.

LHS Sports

Top: As a junior, Ryan Stanick started for the boys varsity basketball team. With his help, the team qualified for the Clark invitational Tournament and the District E Tournament for the first time in 11 years.

Bottom Left: As a first team all-star in the Southern Worcester County league, and a Central Massachusetts all-star, Matthew Kilmonis was more than most defenders could handle as a senior starter at mid-field.

Bottom Right: Maddie Dufries started as a freshmen for the girls varsity soccer team. In her first year of varsity interscholastic athletics, she went on to help the team qualify for the District Tournament for the second year in a row and was given serious consideration for Southern Worcester County League All-Stars.

Top Left: With Jess Coyle's help, this almost was the year for the girls varsity field hockey team. The team missed qualifying for the District Tournament by one game.

Top Right: Malachi Ceely ran hard all season for the varsity football team. The boys had a difficult season, but finished strong, winning three of their last four games.

Bottom Left: One of Leicester's fliers, Veronica Agabanyo, was actually on the ground for this shot. She and her team captured league and district titles.

Bottom Right: Nobody should forget about the JV teams. McKay honed her skills all season, and was often called upon to take goal kicks as she had a very powerful strike.

They reveal it."*

Our Sport is Your Sport's Punishment

Cross Country

Cross Country in Leicester is still fairly new, but it has kicked off to a great start. The three coaches, Mr. Desilets, Mr. White, and Mr. Pajer, taught the team that all it takes is all you have got. Every practice should have 100% effort and every meet should have 10 times that. Everyday the team walked out of the school and was prepared to work and have fun at the same time. You are probably asking yourself, "How could running be fun?", but it is the team that makes it fun. Everyone on the team was treated the same way; respect and support for each other is what makes us successful. They do not act like a family because we are something more than that: we are a team. Together Everyone Achieves More.

The hard work and dedication during practice paid off. This was proven by the personal records constantly set by each athlete. None of this could have happened without a few very important people. Mr. Mansur was always there to help us each and every week at meets. A major thank you goes out to all of the parents who helped drive the players, host team dinners, and overall support. Also, finally thank you to Mr. Rundell, helping to bring the sport of cross country to Leicester last year. The team is looking very bright for Leicester in the future. The team hopes to build each year and become an even larger threat to the other schools in districts.

Right: In their third meet of the year, the boys started off strong right out of the gate against Millbury. Despite the close loss of 23-35, the team was happy with their performance that early in the season.

Below: Shortly after arriving at Leicester High School, both girls and boys teams performed their warmup laps before the meet began. The laps were led by juniors Scott LeBoeuf and Ryan Daige.

Above: Keeping a steady pace, Scott LeBoeuf pulled out in front of his competition. He proved a key presence for his team throughout the season.

Below: Half way through the race, Kaitlyn Pajer can be seen miles ahead of the rest. She went far this season, beating her previous records and receiving several qualifying times.

Above: Following a tough and rigorous race, the girls cooled down and caught their breath in the shade. The girls always gave it their all when representing Leicester.

Below Right: Nearing the end of the race, Karlee Makie willed herself to catch up with her opponents. She finished in front of many other runners.

Below Left: Seconds after aligning at the starting line, the girls sprung into action once they heard the whistle sound. The girls team finished the season with a record of 5-6, beating out David Prouty, Quaboag, and Southbridge in Southern Worcester County League West.

Left: The team huddled up to discuss strategy and technique before a big match. Although a younger team, they showed to be a strong one and were able to pull through for some unexpected wins.

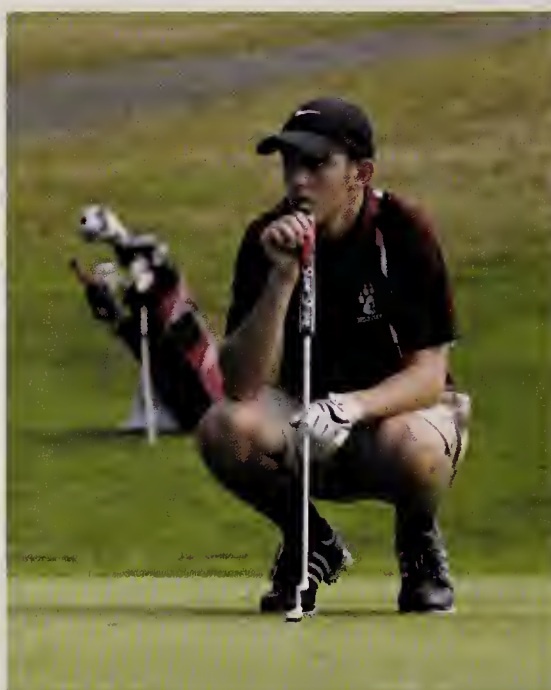

Right: After a few, long, good hits, Ryan Greaney was intently focused on the green, in order to make sure he did not miss. Ryan ended up with a good score that game, which showed that he was a dedicated and hard working player.

Below: Shane Bowes practiced before an important match. Shane later went on to play against a tough competitor that pushed him to work harder.

Above: Being one of the few upperclassmen on the team, Richard Garabedian was essential for the team's success. After setting up, Richard used his powerful back swing to send the ball flying across the course. His willpower to do better was a large reason as to why he had a successful season.

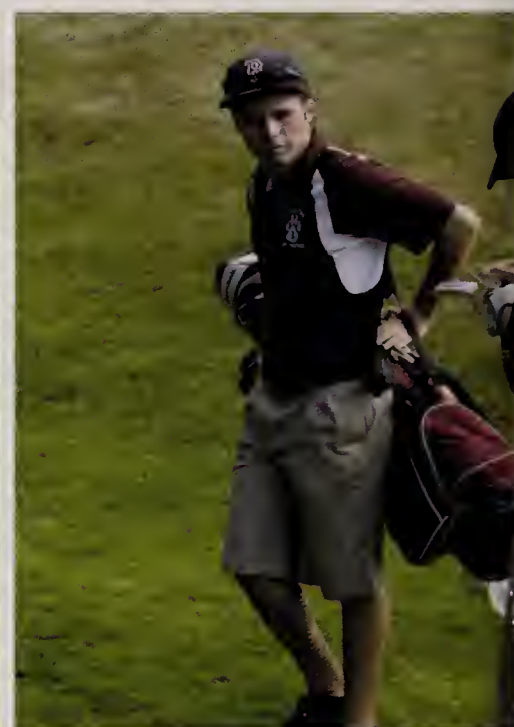

Above: After getting to the green, Tyler Jefferson checked out the conditions before deciding how he would approach this putt. He must have chose right, because he sank the ball in the hole.

Below: Once focused and relaxed, Sean McCarthy put in a lot of effort and gave it his best. No doubt the ball went far with a form like that! Sean went on to play a good match and worked towards helping the team get to districts.

Below: After completing a hole, Christopher Doyle gathered his clubs to move to the next hole. His commitment showed as he helped the Wolverines rack up wins.

The 2014 Golf Team had another good year. The team was made up of a few upperclassmen, but the majority of the team was underclassmen. Each player put in a great deal of practice hours in preparation for matches. Their hard work played off. Once again the team made it to Districts at Blissful Meadows Country Club in Uxbridge for the 11th consecutive year. Senior Co-Captains Christopher Doyle and Zach Keenan valiantly led the team through the highs and the lows of the season. Fellow seniors Nick Miller and Richard Garabedian putted out their high school golf careers this year as well. One of our most notable matches this season came against Quaboag, when we clinched our spot in Districts with a home victory. The future looks bright for the Leicester High golf team, with seven current sophomores on the roster. The team is looking forward to vast improvement in the coming years.

Varsity Cheering

The fall cheerleaders began their season strong, cheering on the football players every Friday night. The 22 members of the team loved yelling and stunting from the sidelines. Once competition season rolled around, they took places in both of the Invationals that they attended. The first Invitational they attended was at Leominster High School, where the team placed third out of four teams. The team then moved up in the ranks, placing second out of four teams at Dracut High School's Invitational.

The team then climbed their way to the top, placing first at Southbridge High School. Placing first in SWCL allowed the team to put a banner in the gym for the first time in Leicester cheerleading history. The team then moved on to Regionals where they again placed first. Placing first in this competition allowed the girls to move on to states for the first time ever. The team finished their season 11th in the state. Aside from the competitions, the team worked hard at getting the football players pumped up and ready to play each game.

Above Left: After the being called out to the floor, the Wolverine cheerleaders set up to begin their routine. Later this team went on to place first in SWCL for the first time.
Above Middle: After hitting a superb low to high stunt, Stephanie Casassa's stunt group turned her so she could pull her scorpion. Later Stephenie stuck every stunt.
Above Right: Once the team fiercely hit the beginning of the routine Callie Kmon, Sarah Mott, and Stephenie Casassa pulled their stretches as the crowd screamed in excitement. These three girls went on to become great cheerleaders.

Left: After hitting all three jumps, the girls threw team back handsprings. Later the girls went on to show their best skills in the cross tumbling section of the routine.

Right: Once the cheer section of the Wolverine's routine ended, Kailyn Schulman's stunt group set up to begin the music section. Later Kailyn went on to stay up in everyone of her stunts.

Left: After a few great plays from the Leicester football team, the cheerleaders began chanting a cheer to pump up the boys. The team went on to do many great cheers the rest of the game.

Right: After the team landed their round off tucks, the girls fiercely hit each one of their motions as hard as they could. The team later went on to do the same during the dance section of the routine.

Above: Showing her aggressive style of play, Talia Borci battled her opponent for the ball. She went on to become one of the leading scorers in the Southern Worcester County League despite her injury during the season.

Below: In Leicester's first game of the season, Coach Hippert gave last minute instructions to his players before the game started. With his vast experience with the sport, Hippert was always there with helpful advice for the team.

Above: While an Auburn player was down with an injury, the team convened to talk strategy. The communication improved drastically by the end of the season with the young team.

Left: Soon after preventing a potential goal from a corner kick, Brittany Flynn sent the ball way down field to her teammates on a goal kick. Her position would later be changed from inside defense to inside midfield.

Right: Continuing her many years as an outside midfielder, Katelyn Jyringi stuck with her mark and kept her Auburn opponent from turning with the ball. Her hustle and optimism always kept the team's spirit up.

Above: Despite her young age, Briahna Smith went in for the tackle against a larger Auburn player in order to win the ball. She would go on to develop as a much more physical defender.

After losing seven seniors from the previous season, the team was anticipating big changes and obstacles. Even with a young team, Leicester was out to prove they were a true contender. Positions all over the field were changed in order to create the right chemistry among the new and returning players. Under the leadership of senior captains Brittany Flynn, Baylee Ford, and Katelyn Jyringi, the team was able to quickly develop and compete with the best of them. Brittany proved a key presence in the inside of the midfield after being moved from defense. Baylee and Katelyn certainly showed their heart and speed by covering the line at outside midfield. Finishing with a league record of 8-6-1 and overall 9-8-2 record, Leicester stepped up to the challenge. They found their momentum mid-season, creating a five game winning streak and tying highly ranked Tantasqua. The girls defeated David Prouty in both games in a blowout and defeated Oxford 3-0 in their Homecoming. These girls truly became a team, bonding on and off the field. Despite the many injuries the team faced, the Leicester High School girls soccer team was able to overcome the loss of instrumental seniors to have a successful 2014 season. After clenching the SWCL West Title in their last regular season game against Quaboag (3-0), the team qualified for districts for their seventh year straight. They put up a good fight against No.3 Holy Name, but sadly came up short. The seniors were able to finish out their high school careers with a record to be proud of. All the girls never stopped working hard to reach their goals and it resulted in a memorable season.

Boys Varsity Soccer

With a record of 10-5-3, the team made it to the first round of districts, however, had a disappointing loss to Douglas. The team had a great run this year, led by Captains Matt Kilmonis #6 and Cullen Mars #16, and Seniors Nick Bleau, Ryan Connor, Connor Davenport, and Mike Herbst. The varsity team was coached by Reed Cleveland. He helped make it a great year with his knowledge and love for the game. The starting lineup for the team was as follows:

Goalie: Zackary Ford, offense Nick Bleau and Mike Herbst midfield Anthony Notaro, Justin Connor, Matthew Kilmonis, Kyle Petit. Defense Cullen Mars, Mike Albro, Ryan Connor, and Spenser Tarentino. The district game was a close, hard fought game. The final was 1-0. Douglas scored in the last 8 minutes of the game. We had a great game against Millbury. Millbury needed a win to get into districts. Anthony Notaro scored late in the second half and with only 1:12 left in the game, Senior Captain Cullen Mars scored and ended division rival Millbury's season. We had plenty of fun in practice, but we did work hard and it showed. Our Homecoming was a success. We played Oxford and won 4-1.

Above: After dribbling upfield, Justin Connor looked to pass the ball off to his teammate. Justin finished the season as a leader in assists on the team.

Above: After a long first half, Nicholas Bleau and Kyle Petit readjusted their shinguards and got some water during a halftime. Both played a majority of minutes, and were not ones to be substituted often.

Right: After putting a stop to the other team, Cullen Mars looked to send the ball over the other team up to the offensive players. As a left defender, Cullen was chosen as a SWCL All-Star for his stout defense.

Left: After stopping the ball and turning it around; Matthew Kilmonis dribbled the ball through the midfield. Matthew was named both League and District All-Star at season's end.

Right: The team huddled up for a quick pep-talk before taking the field for their game. In the past the team had not been recognized as one that work together, but rather as individuals. This year the team proved that wrong. With the help of their coach and dedicated captains, the boys worked hard as teammates and communicated on and off the field.

Below: Immediately after captain Brittany Bowes scored a goal, the team huddled up for a time out. The team went on that day to defeat Oxford and claim victory on their Homecoming day! It was a team effort and good spirit that led them to get the win.

Left: Following her steal Maddie Brennan was intently focused on working her way up the field. She helped the Wolverines gain possession of the ball multiple times that game. Don't let Maddie's size fool you, she really knew how to bring it all year!

Below: After struggling to regain control of the ball, Jessica Coyle ran past her opponents heading towards the goal. Jessica went on to send off a great pass to her teammate.

Below: After an intense play by Leicester's goalie. Mary Brown hustled to beat out her opponent to the ball and gained control of the ball to bring it up the field. She later went on to get some shots off, but unfortunately they did not end in goals.

Below: After battling for the ball, Hailey Boucher used her stick skills to run the ball across midfield. Hailey's run resulted in a pass off to the offense.

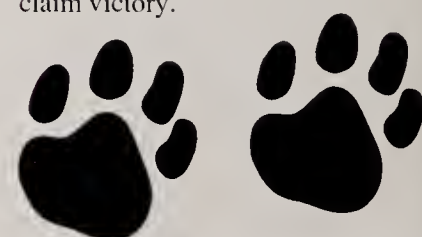

Above: Michelle Pajer looked to score a goal after receiving a pass from the midfield. Her great hustle helped the team stay in that game.

Above: Captains, Brittany Bowes and Mary Brown conversed with excitement after a goal had been scored. Both guided the team to become victorious that day. The two made sure to work hard all year and push their teammates and themselves. Although team players, their individual contributions were noted as they were both named League All-Stars.

Above: After a low shot, Goal Keeper, Brianna Cicero cleared the ball by kicking it. Brianna made many saves that day helping the Lady Wolverines claim victory.

The 2014 field hockey season is one that will never be forgotten. The spirit of the team was found both on and off the field. As a third year varsity coach, Kristina Looney did a tremendous job leading the Lady Wolverines, to another successful season. She pushed the team to their limits and had them playing at their full potential. The team rose above last year's record, under the leadership of returning Senior Captains Brittany Bowes and Mary Brown. The team consisted of seventeen student athletes. The seniors were found on SWCL top leader board for goals and assists throughout the season. Both captains made SWCL All-Stars this season. As the season continued, the team improved their skills to defeat their opponents and they truly understood the concept of a "team".

The team ended their season with a record of 6-8-4. They defeated numerous opponents, had some memorable ties, but also had some disappointing losses. But through the ups and downs, the team and the coaches never gave up faith, even when the times got rough. This year the team will be graduating five seniors who will be missed dearly, but it is not the end, it is only the beginning for a team with a promising future.

Below: After a flawless first quarter, Sam Lavolette blocked for Ryan Stanik. Samuel went on to have a great season.

The team knew from the beginning that the season would be an uphill battle. With only four seniors returning to the roster, every game would prove to be a challenge, and they most certainly were. The seniors experienced that full range of high school football. Freshman year the seniors took part in a winning Super Bowl, sophomore year they made it to the Super Bowl and sadly lost, and their junior year they lost in the playoffs.

Expecting that their senior year would be a rebuilding season, they still pushed through and made it the best season they could. The season ended with a record of 3-7, with both regular season and exhibition games. The team played student athletes from all grades on the varsity level and watched each one of their talents shine on the field. In my eyes this team has a very bright future.

-David LeBlanc

Right: After regaining the ball from a failed fourth down attempt by Uxbridge, the Wolverines set up for their next play. The team later went on to play a great game against Uxbridge.

Above: After a rough quarter Coach Griffiths pulled Ryan McKay and Ryan Stanick in to talk about what they thought the next play should be. Once this play was run the team was able to gain 10 more yards.

Below: After a well snapped ball by Eddie Guenette, the team completed a great run play. Connor Murphy ran the ball up the middle and was tackled by a host of Uxbridge players. With the help of Daniel George and Casey green the play ran smoothly and the team was able to accomplish a first down. Later the team went on to score a well ran touchdown.

Left: After a hurried play in the last few seconds of the first half, Nathan Powers ran the ball 10 yards for a first down Wolverines. Later, Nate went on to achieve 3 more first downs. Right: After a harsh fourth down Ryan Stanick punts a ball to the Uxbridge team. Ryan went on to throw many great passes and punt three other great balls throughout the rest of the game.

Left: After a great pass from quarterback Ryan Stanick, Ryan McKay made a great catch and ran the ball until an Uxbridge player tackled him, Later Ryan McKay went on the play great defense and bring down many Uxbridge players.

Bottom Left: After an interception by Uxbridge, Connor Murphy made a powerful tackle to the Uxbridge ball runner. Later Connor Muphy went on to have a great defensive season.

Bottom Right: After pushing through a group of orange Jerseys, Paul Pepin rushed towards Ryan McKay to help him out of the web of Uxbridge men. Paul later went on to play a great season.

Girls JV Soccer

This year's girls junior varsity team had a very successful season. On account of the soccer waiver approval, several middle schoolers were able to participate on the junior varsity team. Despite the team being mostly comprised of eighth graders and freshmen, the girls were able to pull off many wins. This young team received outstanding coaching and advice from Coach Morgera. She helped each player develop her skills and learn how to effectively play the game of soccer. The skilled and swift offense worked together to keep the goals coming as the dynamic defensive line protected the net from any threats. The girls look forward to continuing their momentum next year.

Boys JV Soccer

This season, the Boys Junior Varsity Soccer team was lead by a new, but experienced coach, Russell Harris. The boys had a good run this year despite the tough competition. The team was made up of freshman and sophomores. Each practice they worked hard on their skills and bonded instantly. The majority of these boys had previously played the sport together so knew how each player played.

Although some of the boys were new, the others welcomed them to the team. With a solid record and dedicated players who know the game well, the JV team shows a promising future for the Boys Soccer program.

Above: After the ball went out of bounds, Carley Cascione looked to send the ball back into play. With the movement of her teammates, she sent the ball in to begin the play.

Right: With a tremendous steal, Caitlin Kemp flew across midfield with the ball. Her great play helped the team make their way closer to the goal.

The Junior Varsity Field Hockey team is coached by Catherine LaPrad. The team had an exciting season, full of intense games and crazy memories. The team was lead not only by Coach LaPrad, but also Captains Hailey Krueger and Carley Cascione. Although the team consisted of mostly new players, it was not long until the natural skills of each player came through. Each player worked hard during practice and brought that intense mind set to games. Their dedication brought them closer as a team. With the help of the upperclassmen on the Varsity Team, they learned just what it meant to play as a team, not an individual. The players cannot wait for next year to begin!

Eliminating the Weak

JV Football

The junior varsity football team had a well played season with a record of 4-3-1. The team worked very well together with a great blend of juniors, sophomores, and freshman. The JV team was fortunate to have many players compete at both the varsity and JV level. The starters on the offensive side consisted of Nate Powers, Andrew Braley and Mike Mercie. The teams linebacker was Anthony Brown. Freshman Nathan Power was helpful in stepping up to play JV when needed. The players are looking forward to playing David Prouty at the end of the season because last year they were unable to. The team has the chance to play the same schedule as the Varsity team does. The order of the games played was Millbury, Oxford, Bartlett, Auburn, West Boylston, Uxbridge, Southbridge, Burncoat, Gardner and Tantasqua.

Above Middle: After halftime ended, Samuel LaViolette back peddled to track the ball. Samuel Laviolette went on to fill his brother's shoes in varsity football.

Above Right: After the opposing team ran the ball, Brennan Avedian held the running back of Uxbridge back from advancing any further. Brennan went on to work hard the rest of the season and play to the best of his ability.

Right: After a great snap by center, Edward Guenette, Nathan Powers set up to make a flawless throw. Nathan Powers then went on to play varsity.

Left: Before the game ended, David Turner ran the ball, jumping over a diving defender. David went on to showcase skills in many varsity games.

Freshman Football

Right: Short after a great snap by the center, Kiev Wilson passed the ball off too A.J. Brown on a run play. Later, A.J. Brown went on to play an amazing game.

Below: Once the ball was snapped, David Turner was forcibly brought down by his Jersey while attempting to tackle the Southbridge player. David went on to play on JV as well.

This year's freshmen team was a combined effort of both freshman and a few sophomore players. Some freshman players had the honor of moving up to play in the JV games and show their talents at a higher level. The team was led by freshman quarterback Kiev Wilson, who ran many phenomenal plays with the help of the team's great blocks and catches. Each player on the team had the talent to be able to switch positions and play at all different places on the field. The freshman team was lucky enough to play their annual game against St. John's High School. Though the Wolverine players did not have the most successful season in Leicester history, they kept their heads high and worked hard together, using each game to prepare them for the next level to come in the future.

Above: After a great fake and run play, a host of Wolverine players helped getting Kiev Willson out of a tough situation. Through the rest of the game the team helped immensely blocking the hosts of red coats at Southbridge High School. Below: After their warm up, Issac Sheldon and Cameron Pye got together to talk about what they plan on doing in the game. These two boys went on to block better than ever.

Above: After Southbridge's quarterback threw a great pass, Micheal Mercier tipped the ball to force the Southbridge player to fumble. Micheal went on to work hard and play very well.

Below: After the Pioneers snapped the ball, Josh Norquist and William Roberts attacked the opposing player taking him down. Josh and William went on to bring down many more players.

Girls Varsity Hockey

The 2014-2015 girls ice hockey season is one that was full of a high level of competition. The team was coached by Peter LaPrad, and assisted by George Carpenter, Nicole Vecchio, and Katelyn LaPrad, and Leicester's former player Meg Jarry. The girls' skills began to improve as the lines started working together. As the season progressed, the concept of a "team" spread among the girls. The girls ended the season with a final record of 8-12. With this record the girls only missed making it to districts by two games. The Auburn Girls Varsity team was led by two captains, Rachel Corwey of Notre Dame and Sydney Mayo of Shepard Hill. There are eight different co-ops, Leicester, Notre Dame, Oxford, Shepherd Hill, Grafton, Millbury, Tantasqua, and the host school, Auburn. This year Leicester High School had two representatives on the team, senior Brittany Bowes and freshman Kelly Krull. This would be Bowes' fourth year with the varsity program, along with her numerous years playing with the program when she was in the middle school. Krull definitely brought talent and enthusiasm to the team. Both girls clearly earned their place in the starting lines and got a lot of ice time, and even played together as line mates at times. As the season came to an end, the seven graduating seniors from the various towns expressed what it means to have true passion for the game and passed the puck to a team with a promising future.

Boys Varsity Hockey

Players for the Worcester Wildcats team come from all of the Worcester Public Schools, along with some others. These schools include Burncoat, Doherty, Worcester Tech, North, South, Bay Path, and Leicester. The team is coached by Mike Vanghan, with the help of four captains. The captains are Seamus O'Connor of Burncoat, Jimmy Sharry of Doherty, Sean Moran of Doherty, and Cullen Mars of Leicester.

The final record for the season was 15-6-2. The team played in the quarter-finals of Districts against Grafton and won 5-1. They then played Fitchburg at the Wallace Civic Center and won 3-2 in the semi-finals. This game was so close that it ended in a shoot-out. The following week they went back to the Wallace Civic Center for the District Finals to play Nashoba. They lost 3-0 in a hard fought battle. The starters were Junior goalie Tyler Spaulding, Cullen Mars, Sean Moran, James Sherry, Seamus O'Conner, and Joe Arsenault. Most of our practices were at three everyday after school at Lake Ave, which was our home rink. This season was mostly a rebuilding year for the team because we had new student athletes from Bay Path joining us. But it turned out to be a great season and we are very proud of what we accomplished.

Left: Goalie Tyler Spaulding looked to pass the puck to his defender after the other team cleared the puck so they could do a line change. Tyler's outstanding saves while in net were a huge reason why the Wildcats did so well throughout the whole season.

Right: After a loose puck, Brett Willand battled against his opponent to regain control over it. Brett won the puck and preceded to skate down the ice. He was able to pass the puck off to the left wing players, where he got a shot off.

Left: After the puck escaped the Wildcat's grasp, Captain Cullen Mars looked to block a pass made by the other team. His ability to stop the puck allowed the Wildcats to regain the puck. Cullen's great efforts throughout the game and season, showed just how dedicated he was to the sport and his team.

Below: Sophomore Brett Willand took the puck up the ice after having stole a pass away from the other team. Brett continued to skate the puck up the ice and allowed a great shot to be made from his hustle.

Left: Brett Willand got down on the ice to try and block a shot. His block allowed the Wildcats to regain control of the puck and send it up the ice.

Right: Goalie number 3 Ethan Spaulding, number 25 Shane Bowes, and number 24 Brett Willand defended their goal. All three of them worked hard all year to do wherever they could to protect their zone.

Right: Cullen Mars skated hard at his opponent. Cullen's determination allowed him to steal the puck and pass it across the ice to his teammate. After receiving the pass, his teammate was able to get a shot off.

Below: After warming up for the game, Tyler Spaulding looked to make one last save while a teammate took a slap-shot on him. The slap-shot was saved and both were more than ready for the big game. Tyler went on to make many more saves that night that helped lead the team to victory.

Left: Upon stealing the puck back from the other team, Sophomore Shane Bowes released a pass up the ice to the right wing player. His pass was scooped up by a teammate and a shot was attempted from it.

Girls Indoor Track

The girls indoor track team for the 2014-2015 season contained a small yet dedicated group who were willing to work hard and improve over the course of the season. Although the size of the team occasionally did not receive high scores in competition, the girls were able to set records for themselves. In fact many of the girls were able to compete in the District E Indoor Invitational and one girl qualified for the State Championship meet. Over the course of the winter we all steadily improved on our times and often set personal records for ourselves while chasing the times for the coveted school's records. At the SWCL Championship meet, the girls proved to be very impressive in the results; Kaitlyn Pajer finished 2nd in the two mile, Stephanie Casassa finished 6th in the 55m dash and 4th in the 300m dash, and in the 4x800m relay team (Kaitlyn Pajer, Emily Moughan, Michelle Pajer, and Alysse Carpenter) finished 4th.

Right: After Kaitlyn Pajer got mentally and physically prepared to compete in the race, she gave all her heart out on the track, running as she has been trained to do. She shocked the teams with her great agility.

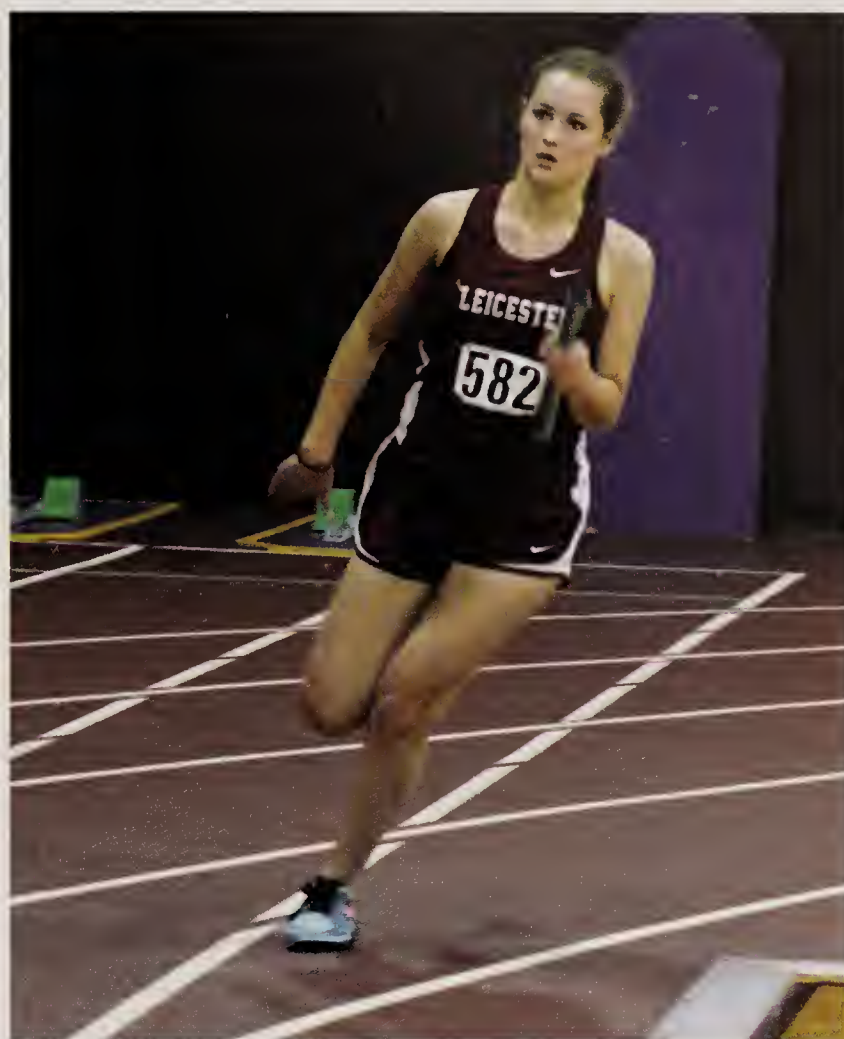

Left: After she cheered on her teammates who competed in other events, Brianna Cicero prepared to launch the shotput. Her throw helped her team advance.

Below: Once Emilie Wright received the baton from her teammate, she ran as fast as she could in order to pass the baton off to her next teammate. Her quick speed gave her team an advantage in the relay race.

Left: Alysee Carpenter trained for long distance running in practice and her efforts paid off when she ran a great time in a race. Her endurance helped her place high in the event.

Below: After Madison Rowland had stretched her legs and prepared for the high jump event, she sprinted to the bar and jumped over it with ease. Her impressive athletic ability and height allowed her to easily soar over the competition.

Left: After receiving a pass from Katelyn Jyringi, Megan Steiger looked to lay the ball up. Her made basket helped the Wolverines throughout the season.

Right: Katelyn Jyringi went up for a layup during warm-ups. Her focus during the warm-ups helped her in playing a very good game.

Right: After the team huddled up, they took the court where Sarah Gaffney won the jump ball. Her height helped her to send the ball to Baylee Ford where they started the game off strong.

Below: Upon dribbling down the court, Brittany Flynn took the ball to the basket. Her shot did not go in on the first attempt but she got her rebound and laid the ball up.

Above: The team huddled up right after the starting lineup was announced. After they finished their pep talk, the team went back to the bench where they lined up for the National Anthem.

Right: After receiving a pass, Madison Dufries looked to dribble past the other team. Her quickness allowed her to fly past her opponent and make a run to the hoop.

Below: After Coach Stanick called a time out, the team huddled up to discuss plays that he wanted them to do. The time out helped the team get back on track.

The Girls Varisty Basketball team has once again had an outstanding year. The team was lead by Coach Stanick and Coach Steiger and by the three captains, Sarah Gaffney, Brittany Flynn and Megan Steiger. Not only has the team proven many people wrong by making the Districts for the second year in a row, they have also proven to themselves what they are capable of. This season there were six returning players and four new players, many adjustments needed to be done, but the girls were willing to work hard. This all became much easier once they became such a close team. Throughout the season the team clinched some exhilarating victories. They once again beat Uxbridge, making the Varsity team 2-0 in Uxbridge's gym. During this game the score was 4-14 at half, but with determination the team was able to pull through and win 35-29. Another great win for the team was at home against Grafton. The girls worked hard and ended up winning 51-50. The team had a great run and cannot wait for next season!

Boys Varsity Basketball

This season has proved to be the most successful season in many years. The team has clinched a spot in the Clark Tournament as well as districts this year. This year is the first year the Leicester ball team has made it to the Clark in 11 years. Mr. Lynch and the team have put in a lot of work during the offseason, showing that they were ready to play with the best of the best. This team has a lot of character with pieces that fit perfectly together.

Everyday they work hard to win more games and it has paid off. The team would like to thank Mr. Lynch for all his time and dedication. We would also like to thank the fans, who have been awesome and it will be exciting to play in the post-season games.

Left: After receiving the ball from his teammate, Richard Garabedian pulled up over his opponent for a quick jumper. This move led to an impressive basket from the paint for one of Leicester's leading scorers.

Right: Following an out of bounds play by Southbridge, senior guard Ryan Connor took the ball out from the sidelines. With a strong fake, he was able to pass it into a fellow Leicester teammate.

Left: On a powerful drive to the hoop, Shawn Mott picked up his dribble and jumped far above two opponents for an attempted layup. Shawn has proved to be a solid member for the team throughout the years, working hard to collect a number of rebounds this season.

Above: After the teams went through their warm-ups and the starting lineups of the game were announced, the team lined up for the playing of the National Anthem. The team members got a last few seconds to mentally prepare for the game.

Left: After Nicholas Bleau received a pass from a fellow teammate, he dribbled the ball up the court. His quick speed allowed him to get by the opposing players and go up for a shot.

Left: After a player shot the basketball far from the hoop, Daniel George sprung up into the air and rebounded the ball before anyone else could get it. His strong, swift actions allowed the team to quickly get back the ball and get into position to attack the net.

Below: Once the referee blew the whistle for the start of the game, Matthew Morrow jumped up to knock the ball to his teammates. With a clear height advantage, he was easily able to win the tipoff and send the ball over to a Wolverine player.

Left: Once a time out was called, the players all huddled around their coach, Mr. Lynch, as he instructed those who had just come off the court. His team then listened and followed his advice when they went back on the floor. The players have been grateful to have Mr. Lynch as a coach and believe he is a huge part of their success.

JV Girls Basketball

While the JV girls basketball team did not have the most successful season statistically, it was extremely successful in other ways. Through weeks of intense practice and hard work, led by Coach Steiger, the team improved immensely with every touch of the ball. More importantly, the girls showed determination, heart, and commitment every time they stepped onto the court. These qualities, showing heart and integrity, will prove to bring each of these girls to unimaginable places. Although the inevitable end of the season came with more losses than wins, every one of the girls left with a hopeful readiness for the new seasons in the years to come.

JV Boys Basketball

This year's boys JV basketball team, coached by Christopher Barry, was a young, developing team. The team consisted of large group of freshman with a few sophomores. As a team they had their tough wins and losses, but never stopped working hard throughout the season. This team had trouble on the road and pulled out some great wins at home. The boys really came together and played very good basketball.

The boys had a good season that started the preparation to move up to varsity in the future. Overall the boys improved and are ready for the next season.

Left: Before letting Southbridge get an easy lay up on Leicester, Troy blocked it and fell hard to the ground. Having wonderful sportsmanship, his teammates helped him up.

SHE SAID

After making it to Districts last season for the first time in thirteen years, our expectations are set higher than ever. Although we are a young team this year, we are determined to prove ourselves and qualify for districts again this season. We believe we have enough talent on the team to compete with anyone on our schedule if we continue to work hard and stay focused. I am excited to see what this season will bring for our team.

-Brittany Flynn

HE SAID

Our team this year has worked very hard in the off-season and pre-season. We have set a goal to make it through the season winning at least 10 games so we can make it into the playoffs. The starting lineup may only have two seniors, but our younger players are stepping up and working hard to play up to their potential. Coach Lynch is a great guy and we are all blessed to have him as a coach. I have great hope for my team as we approach the playoffs.

Varsity Softball

The Girls Varsity Softball team had a strong season in 2014. Each girl brought their own talent to the field creating a well put together team. Coach Stanick pushed each and every one of the girls to reach a new level of softball skill and bring the team together. The team was rebuilding with new starters and a new pitchers. The Leicester Wolverine Softball starting fielders were as follows; Lead off batter, center fielder Julia Hebert, Second batter, short stop, Kelly Shea. Third batter, second baseman, Kiley Hennessey, Fourth batter, first baseman, Richelle LaFrance. Fifth batter, catcher, Allison Crowley. Sixth batter, third baseman, Madison Sherman. Seventh batter, left field, Megan Steiger. Eighth batter, pitcher, Ashley Granger. Ninth batter, right field, Leah Morales. The team's alternates were Maddison Whitcomb and Erin Granger. Even during this rebuilding stage, the team was still able to finish the season with a record of 13-8. This gave the lady Wolverines yet another district opportunity. This season led the softball team to their 5th year of winning the league. The team is on their way to greatness with another great upcoming season in 2015.

The Junior Varsity Softball team had a fun-filled 2014 season. The team had some new recruits from the middle school, which made the year interesting. Coach Bowes had the girls working hard in practice so that the team would improve. The girls made new friendships and had a great time while playing the game they love. The Wolverine JV softball line up went as follows: Lead off batter, short stop, Emily Stead. Second batter, second baseman, Lauren St. John. Third batter, pitcher, Madison Dufries. Fourth batter, first baseman, Kelley Hall. Fifth batter, third base, Samantha Sealey. Sixth batter, center field, Emily LaTour. Seventh batter, left field, Stephanie Casassa. Eighth batter, catcher, Sarah White. Ninth batter, right field, Riley Little. The alternates for the JV team were Megan Wood, Sara Hall, Hillary Mensah, Lea LaBaire, and Paige Jones. Though the team's record was 5-15, the girls had the chance to learn more about softball and had a great time doing it. They are now looking forward to another great season in 2015.

Work Hard, Play Hard

Varsity Baseball

Heart, loyalty, and respect are three character traits required to play the game of baseball. These traits were exhibited by the 2014 Leicester Varsity Baseball team, led by Senior Captains Drew Mazzeo and Tyler Kowalczyk. Though the team did not achieve the amount of wins that they would have liked to, the players never stopped fighting, never gave up, and always took the field with pride. Winning as a team and losing as a team, the bond created between the players can never be broken. No matter how many games the team won, they always had each other's back and enjoyed playing the game. The field consisted of all grades: freshman, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The team had many players with a lot of talent that could change positions when needed. The team's catcher was primarily Camden Hart. They were lucky enough to have many pitchers on the team, however, their starting pitcher was usually Ryan McKay. First base was primarily Zach Boss. Second base was primarily played by Tyler Kowalczyk. Short stop was played by both Michael Albro and Brett Willand. Third base was primarily played by Anthony Nataro. Left field was primarily played by Richard Garabedian Jr. Center field was primarily played by Drew Mazzeo. Right field was primarily played by Ryan Stanik.

JV Baseball

The 2014 Junior Varsity Baseball team had a tough season this year. They struggled against a few of the opponents, but did not let Coach Lavin down. The players kept their spirits high and positive attitudes all season. They won a few great games and played hard during each. The team was very fortunate to have had a few players that worked as swing players on both the Varsity and Junior Varsity level. The starting players were as follows: Right field, sophomore, Patrick Whalen. Center field, freshman, Sean McCarthy. Left field, freshmen, Reece McLeod, First base, freshmen, Robert LaBaire. Second base, freshman, Ryan Greaney. Short stop, sophomore, Dylan Procaro. Third base, freshman, Shane Bowes. Pitcher, sophomore, Kyle Petit. Catcher, freshman, Baylen Harper. The team was able to work well together and move position when needed. These boys have very bright futures ahead of them. Coach Lavin pushed each of these players so that they are able to play to the best of their abilities. They are looking forward to the 2015 season.

Boys Varsity Tennis

The 2014 season was not what the Boys Varsity Tennis team was hoping for. Although the season was upsetting, the boys stayed positive, determined, and tried their hardest to improve each week. The team was led by Captains Joseph Hamm and Matthew Kilmonis. They did their best to keep a good mentality among the team. The boys always had fun at practices and worked on improving on the smaller things that could help them secured a victory in the future matches.

Although only having two wins, the team worked hard despite the predicament that they ended in, closing out the season with a record of 2-15 overall and 1-13 in the league. With only two Seniors graduating, the team is looking for a successful season in the spring of 2015.

One Track Mind

Boys Varsity Track and Field

The boys track and field team had another great season thanks to the great coaching and continuous effort of the athletes. The boys team started and ended the spring season strong. The team could not ask for better leaders with co-captains Shane Rookey and Colin Boyle leading the team to victory. All the boys worked extremely hard to improve upon their individual events. Each person pushed their limits in order to make the team stronger. The team ended on a positive note with much improvement and a strong showing at districts and states. Boys track finished with a record of 1-5. -Coach Joe Sliwoski

Below: In Leicester's first meet of the year, Lucas Ford demonstrated extreme focus while leaping over the hurdles. His speed lead him to become top team finisher at the District E Decathlon with a 17th place finish.

Below: With his final season coming to an end, Shane Rookey set himself and began his wind up for discus. He was the top team finisher at the District E Weight Pentathlon with a 5th place finish.

Above: As a newcomer to the team, Zachary Reynolds impressed the audience as he launched the javelin. He is anticipated to become a leader for Leicester in the years to come.

One Spirit, One Team

Girls Varsity Track and Field

The girls varsity track team had a very successful season in the spring of 2014 with two school records broken and a strong presence at Districts and States. We received wonderful coaching that helped lead our team to victory. Our captain, Jen Pajer, helped keep our team on track (pun intended) when focusing on goals. This team always strove to be the best in our events. We were determined to improve our times and skills each and every day. We are looking forward to see what our girls will accomplish in the upcoming 2015 season. The team finished with a record of 2-3.

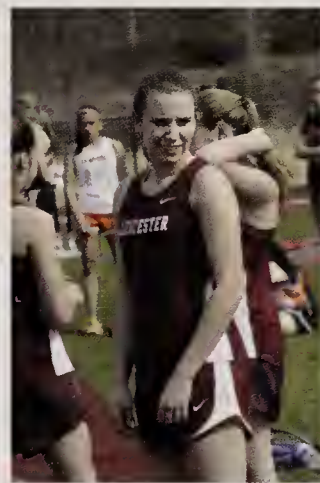

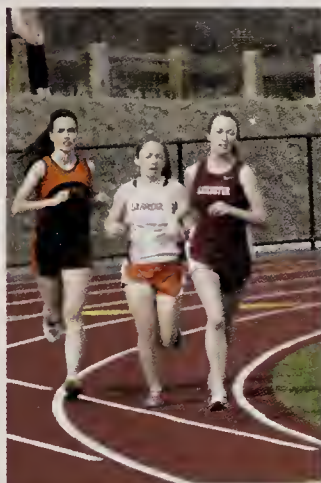

-Baylee Ford

Above: After warming up, Leicester runners Abby Meyers and Quinn Anderson hustled to outrun their competitors. These girls would go on to win many events that day.

Upper Right: In the first meet of the season, Emilie Wright proved her skill as she effortlessly cleared the hurdles. She would later qualify for districts in the 4x400 and 4x800.

Right: Following her previous high school successes, Senior Captain Jen Pajer defeated her opponents in the last lap of the 4x800 relay. Pajer also broke the school record for the 2 mile with a time of 12:26:71.

Below: After winding up, Mariah Frost threw the discus as far as she could. Mariah went on to have a great season.

Left: Soon after arrival, Baylee Ford psyched herself up before competing in the 4x400. She ended the season as the top finisher for Leicester at the District E Weight Pentathlon with an 8th place finish.

Below: In the tough battle against Oxford, Madison Rowland flawlessly conquered the high jump. Rowland broke the triple jump school record with a jump of 34'4" and was the sole competitor at the All State meet.

Our Sport Is Boys Indoor Track Your Sport's Punishment

Boys Indoor Track had a successful season this year. Coaches White and Sliwoski did an amazing job teaching the guys to compete to the best of their abilities. Lucas Ford specialized in the 55m hurdles, 300m dash, and high jump. Isaac Sheldon specialized in the 55m dash, high jump, and the 4x2 relay. Atticus Kane specialized in the 55m dash and the 4x2 relay. Harold Cocker specialized in high jump and shot put. Benjamin Boudreau specialized in the 55m dash, and the 4x2 relay. Scott LeBoeuf specialized in 1000m, 600m dash, and the 1 mile. Everyone on the team made tremendous progress throughout the entire season. All of the guys qualified for events at the Districts meet, and Lucas Ford qualified for the State meet. The success of the team was all thanks to the wonderful coaches. The coaches helped everyone improve in their own areas, giving the boys individual attention and helping them tweak out any flaws they had. The coaching techniques combined with the hard work of the athletes is the reason why the boys had a successful season.

- Captain Lucas Ford

Right: After Isaac Sheldon mentally prepared for the race, he ran to the best of his abilities, striving to win. His great agility allowed him to place high in the event.

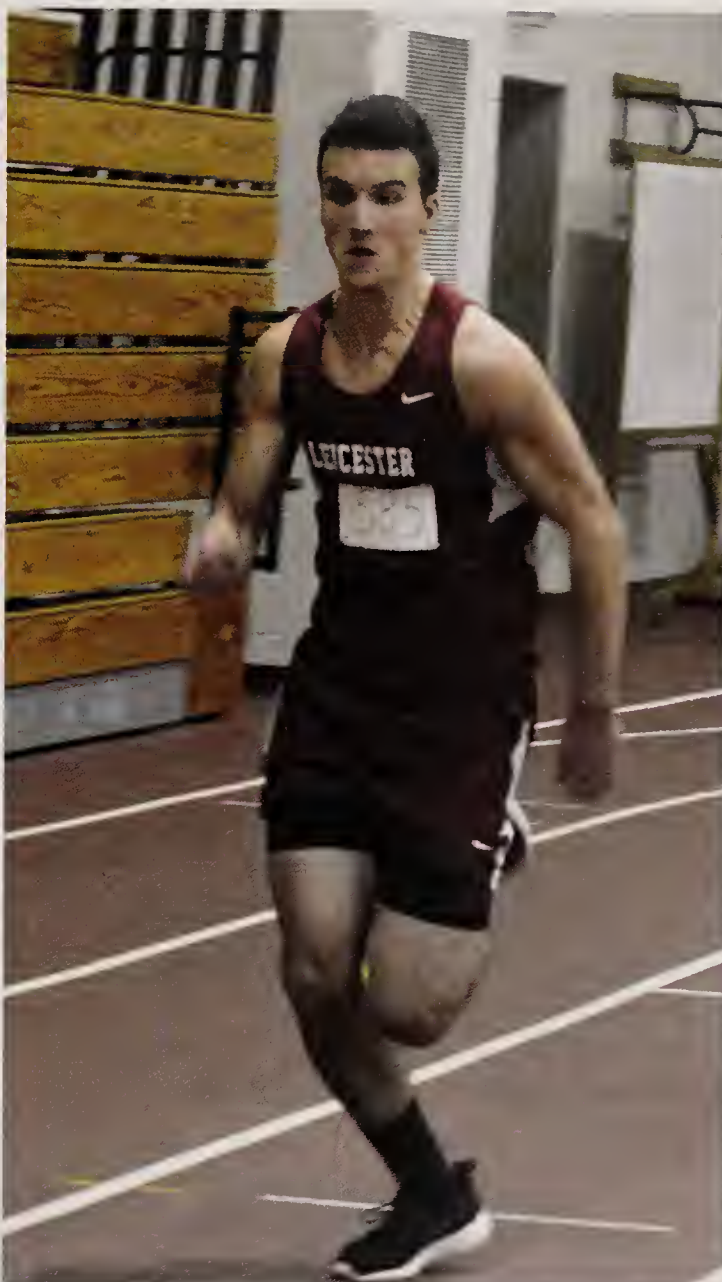

Left: After Lucas Ford had stretched out for the race, he sprinted and jumped his way to victory over the high hurdles. His great form and fast speed allowed him to place high in the event.

Below: Once Atticus Kane had warmed up, he put out all his effort into the race. His determination to win paid off and helped him advance the team in the meet.

Above: Once he had suited up for the event, Scott LeBoeuf raced against his competitors with great speed. His placing in the event helped his team receive points during the meet. Scott also ran cross country for Leicester.

Right: After he had cheered on his fellow teammates, Benjamin Boudreau ran with all of his might to the finish line. His time in the race allowed him the place remarkably well in the event.

This would be the final time the class of 2014 would walk together through the halls of Leicester High. The next step was graduation. Emotions were running high; mixed feelings of excitement and sadness. Everyone had come to the realization that their high school career was truly coming to an end. It was time to move on with their lives, meet new people, and explore new opportunities. A new chapter of their lives was waiting right around the corner. The traditional slideshow was shown, students reflected on all of their good memories that came out of their Leicester experience. Teacher awards were presented, superlatives were recognized, and speeches were given by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Paolucci and Principal Dr. Tencza. Students receiving scholarships were recognized for their achievements. Even with all that pomp and circumstance, the Class of 2014 was able to keep the atmosphere light and celebratory with a creative rap. Leaders of the class addressed their fellow classmates and audience with moving speeches. Just like that, their class day had ended. The class of 2014 proceeded out of the Fine Arts Center at the end, saying goodbye to their time here at LHS.

Left: Seniors donned their robes for the first time as they lined up for the entering procession. They stepped out onto the stage filled with excitement.

Above: After weeks of practice, the senior members of chorus performed the Leicester High Alma Mater. The audience erupted with applause.

Below: Following the announcement of superlatives, the students sat engaged as subject awards were awarded by teachers. Each student was thrilled to have been recognized for their hard work.

Right Top: After thanking Mrs. Knight for her years of service, the class recognized her as the recipient of the 2014 yearbook dedication. She shared a heartwarming moment with Cate Brennan as she received her flowers.

Right Middle: To begin the ceremony, the class officers addressed the audience and their peers. They spoke of their unforgettable memories while attending LHS.

Right Below: Toward the end of the service, Blake McNamara and Cody Berman performed their original rap relating to their school experience. The audience loved their creative addition to the ceremony.

--Graduation-- Class of 2014

Above: Displaying Leicester High's musical ability, chorus members performed "The Best Day of My Life." The auditorium quickly filled with applause.

Above: Following their procession on stage, the graduates stood looking out towards the audience. They would later express their feelings of nervousness to their friends and family.

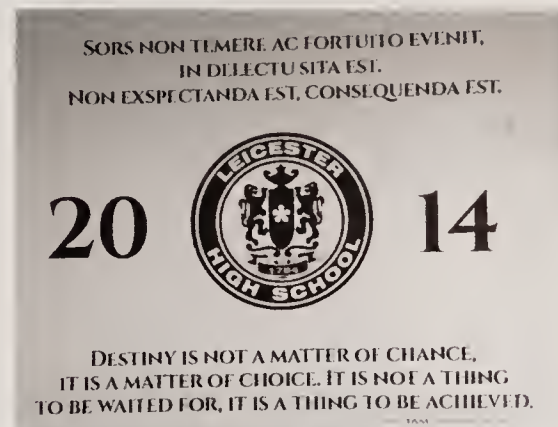

It was finally here. The night all students constantly await: Graduation. The class of 2014 could hardly believe it was finally upon them. Their four years together at Leicester High had flown by, and now it would be the last time their class as a whole would be together. Faculty, staff, friends, and family sat in front of the stage in the Hanover Theatre anxiously awaiting the seniors' arrival. Eyes filled with tears, both from the students and the parents. Each student speaker reflected upon their high school journey and what it had taught them. After receiving their diplomas, graduates were once again hit by reality. As the ceremony came to a close, the graduates left the hall as alumni, holding tight to the memories and friendships they had created in the past four years. It was now time for each graduate to start a new chapter in life.

Above: Staying with tradition, Mr. Lennerton volunteered to play the bagpipes for graduation. The class of 2014 was very grateful he could attend and thanked him for his dedication.

Right: After receiving their diplomas, the graduates sang the Leicester High School Alma Mater. The audience soon joined in, displaying years of school spirit.

Left: Ending her first year as Leicester's Superintendent, Dr. Judith Paolucci served as a key speaker for graduation. She went on to congratulate and offer great advice to the graduates in her speech.

Above: As the audience poured in, they were met with the class of 2014 motto depicted on stage. Graduation took place at The Hanover Theatre in Worcester, MA.

Above: As a result of four years of an unfailing work ethic, Valedictorian Alana Wright was able to receive her well-deserved medal on stage. She went on to give an inspiring speech on behalf of her peers.

The Class of 2015

Setting the Stage

Night at the Wax Museum

Above: After a long day of rehearsal, members of the cast and crew gathered in front of the main scenery created by Art Club. They were all extremely grateful for the time Art Club put into the settings.

Below: During the play, the wax figure characters were frightened when a mysterious ghost suddenly appeared. The audience was on the edge of their seats as the suspense built.

Below Right: Kelsey Hammond looked fierce as she posed for a picture during Drama rehearsal. Her dedication and commitment throughout the year was shown through her outstanding performances each night.

Below: While preparing for opening night, Brianna Cicero and Jacod Reynolds got together during rehearsals to take a picture. Both pulled off their characters well and did a great job in the performances!

Right: During dress rehearsals, the cast of Night at the Wax Museum took a short break for a group picture. They wanted to always remember this moment and how much they enjoyed practicing for the production.

Leicester High School Drama Club is comprised of a group of students from all areas of high school. Ever year we put on a production, mainly in the comedic musical genre, that draws in crowds from near and far. The production itself requires quite an impressive commitment from its cast and crew. We practice every day, beginning with rehearsing dialogue, then moving on to choreography and costumes. Rehearsals become longer as the show grows nearer. More and more practice is always needed as Mrs. Dutton and the cast always likes everything, from dialogue, to music, to stage setting as perfect as we can possibly make it. Occasionally, to get the proper amount of practice in, rehearsals can sometimes reach until five or even six in the afternoon.

Our director, Mrs. Dutton, brings us to push our own limits, expecting great things of us as we expect of her. More often than not, all members of the cast exceed whatever expectations are given to us. Every year the cast succeeds in delivering a great performance for the audience to enjoy. We work closely with the Art Club, which many of the cast members happen to be members of. LHS Drama also currently works with our infinitely talented choreographer Jen Thurlow, who creates powerful and fitting choreography. The drama department employs the assistance of professional pianist Olga Rogach who works with all the singing leads to bring them to their full potential.

Working together so frequently, it is only natural for the cast to become close as a unit. Drama is often a place of sanctuary as well as a center of productivity. The cast consists of myriad characters, not just in its plays, but also in the members themselves. We have athletes, scholars, musicians, etc. Every night seniors give speeches telling the cast what drama has been to them in the years past. Speeches are often an emotional time for the entire cast and crew as it is an end of an era for departing members. At the same time, however, it encourages them to make the play the absolute best it can be. The final performance is always an incredible time and after the show we continue to enjoy each others' company during the cast party. The next year, the seniors have departed and new members are welcomed into the family. Every year is just as satisfying as the last.

Dear seniors,

Advising you has been a whirlwind of fundraisers, meetings, dances, and events and we can barely believe it has come to an end. We feel lucky to have lead the Class of 2015 from some questionable fashion decisions in your freshman year all the way through to your graduation ceremony. We are the class who has left our paw print on LHS forever.

Thank you for sharing your high school years with us. Here's to the class who did things just a little bit differently. We wish you well and thank you dearly and hope you will all cherish these memories as much as we do.

Sincerely,

Mr. Smith and Ms. Lavelle

Congratulations!
We are very proud of you and the man you are becoming.
We know you will be able to reach any goal that you put your mind to.
